INDIANS ARE NOW BEATEN.

Gen. Bacon Returns to Walker and Says He Needs No Reinforcements.

The Hostiles Weaken and White Flags Are Now Flying Along the Lake.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—A special from Duluth says General Bacon has sent word that he has the Pillager Indians whipped and does not need further reinforcements. The companies of the Fourteenth Minnesota now here do not expect to be called out.

TROOPS RETURN TO WALKER.

WALKER, Minn., Oct. 7.—Gen. Bacon and his men arrived here at 12:25 having no difficulty in landing off boats. It is reported that at several points along the lake were seen white flags, indicating surrender.

BOTH SIDES RESTING.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—A Journal Walker, Minn., special says: Watchers around the town last night report this morning that signal lights were flashing back and forth on the opposite shore of the lake last night, and they are fearful that large bodies of Indians from other reservations reached the Pillager camp during the night. The situation today is one of nervous anticipation, with uncertainty everywhere.

The tug Flora left at 2 o'clock this morning to bring out General Bacon and his men, and pending their return there will probably be nothing done. Indications are that both sides will rest today with fair prospects of resumption of hostilities tomorrow, unless the Indians surrender in the meantime or make overtures for peace.

Gus Beaulieu, who knows Indians in and around Leech Lake as well as any other living man, is confident that they will today ask for terms of peace.

Beaulieu made a tour of the lake yesterday in the Journal dispatch boat Jennie, arriving in Walker late last night. He brought word that four of those for whom warrants have been issued have given themselves up to the chiefs of their respective tribes, by whom they will be given up today at the conference they have asked with Agent Sutherland. As proof that the intentions of the Indians are more friendly, Beaulieu points to the fact that all Indians now coming into the agency are bringing their wives and children.

Chief Gay-Gwa-Che-Way-Binaing of Bear Island, who has been one of the most active in trying to suppress the rebellion, assured Lieutenant Humphreys yesterday that everything would be amicably settled in the next twenty-four hours, and that his tribe was anxious for peace. It must be confessed at the same time that Beaulieu's optimistic prophecies are not shared by the people of Walker, or supported by the reports that are constantly coming into town.

A courier came in this morning from a point twenty-five miles north and said that during the past forty-eight hours more than 250 Indians, all armed with Winchesters, have been counted by him alone and that they are going in the direction of Bear Island.

One of the hostile chiefs, who was spoken to yesterday on the point near the narrows, boasted that he had seen red men as thick as leaves in the forest, and defied those on board the boat to fire a shot. One instructor in an Indian school said last night that despite the protestations of friendship the agency Indians are in an ugly mood, and that their sentiments, as gathered from several of their powwows he has been fortunate enough to overhear, are warlike. He has fears that trouble will come from this source before the matter is settled.

Dr. Hart has brought his family into Walker, and all of the white people at the agency have followed his example with a single exception—Mrs. Smith, one of the teachers. This seems to indicate very plainly in which direction the wind is blowing among these people. People in and around Walker are apprehensive of the outcome, and are demanding that the redskins be pursued until they are broken in spirit and are thoroughly cowed. They say that if the trouble be allowed to drop now it will be but a short time before they again become defiant, and that their lives and property will not be safe unless the Indians are exterminated.

Major Wilkinson's body was sent down on this morning's train.

Inspector Tinker has wired Secretary of the Interior Bliss asking for at least 5,000 troops. In all probability one-fifth of that number will be sufficient and more than sufficient to do all that remains to be done. One of the most prominent citizens here, who is thoroughly familiar with the situation, and who has had much to do with the Indians, has just confirmed Beaulieu's story. He explains the migration of the Indians toward Bear Island by saying in all probability they are on the way to the agency to sign the rolls for peace, and that as soon as this is done there will be a general hegira of Chippewas across the border. He does not think another shot will be fired.

INDIANS DISAPPEAR.

CASS LAKE, Minn., Oct. 7.—The fears of an attack on this place last night proved groundless, and everything is quiet this morning. Indians are scarce here, and have evidently gone to some central point, but where this place is, is impossible to ascertain.

NO DANGER AT CASS LAKE.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—T. A. Cummings wires the Governor from Cass Lake as follows:

"We have provided ourselves fairly well with guns and have the assurance of men who are familiar with the Cass Lake Indians that the Indians are more scared, for fear of troops, than the whites.

"We have sent men out among the Indians today and will wire you if we require any more protection."

Another message from three citizens says protection is unnecessary.

CHIPPEWA GLADSTONE DEAD.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 7.—A special to the Dispatch from White Earth, Minn., says:

Wah Paw Nah Quod, White Cloud, head chief of the White River reservation and the Gladstone of the Chippewa Indians of Minnesota, died this morning, aged 75 years. His death is a serious loss to the Chippewa Indians. Agency flags are flying at half-mast. Everything is peaceful here.

INDIANS DANCING.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—A special to the Journal from Deer River, Minn., says that 400 Indians from various Chippewa bands are camped on Ball Club lake and dancing. While there is not much fear of trouble, there are some hot-headed young bucks among them, and Duluth was called on for arms. Eighty rifles were sent. The braves are coming into town this morning and refuse to talk. It is thought they are hesitating whether or not to join in the hostilities.

ARRANGING A CONFERENCE.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 7.—A Walker, Minnesota, special to the Dispatch says:

The bodies of Major Wilkinson, Sergeant Butler and four privates and eleven wounded soldiers left here on the morning train for St. Paul. Lieutenant Lawrence of the Hospital Corps is in charge of the wounded.

Al Russell, the dead Indian policeman, was turned over to the Leech Lake tribe for burial here. He leaves a widow and child at the agency. The killing of Russell by the soldiers is being used by turbulent Indians to induce others to join in resisting the Government.

This morning an Indian scout brought in a report that the Indians would try to tear up the track below, here with a view to wrecking the train that left this morning, but this was regarded with the same discredit as the story told by pickets last night that the Indians were preparing to attack Walker with a view to rescuing three of their band in the jail here. The pickets reported seeing the flashing of torches and hearing signal calls in the timber near Walker.

Gus H. Beaulieu received a telegram this morning from W. S. Field of the Indian Department at Washington, asking for telegraphic information as to the situation and if he was needed. After a conference with the Indians Mr. Beaulieu sent a telegram to Mr. Field to come at once. He is expected here Tuesday for a general conference with the Indians.

ANOTHER BATTLE BREWING.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—A Journal Walker special says:

A conference between Indian Agent Sutherland and Chippewa chiefs now at the agency, is going on, and the matters are again assuming a threatening aspect.

Mrs. Colby, who is employed at the agency school as an instructor, was this morning ordered to leave the agency by Indians, and has just arrived here. She fears serious trouble within the next few hours, and says that the pretext of the bucks, who are constantly arriving at the agency from all directions, that they have come to sign rolls, is offered for the occasion.

Indian Agent Sutherland, before starting, gave it as his opinion that the conference would not amount to anything, but felt it his duty to go inasmuch as the bucks had requested it.

A rumor is current here that two troops of cavalry from Fort Yates and Fort Keogh, which passed through Minneapolis Tuesday night on the way to Huntsville, Alabama, have been ordered to come to Walker as fast as they can be got there.

The inhabitants here, with few exceptions, have no hope that the end is near. It is generally held that the beginning has not yet been made.

Sick and wounded men were taken to St. Paul in a special car attached to the regular train this morning.

BACON'S DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A dispatch from General Bacon received by the Adjutant-General, dated Walker, October 6, via Brainard, October 7, says that the Indians have scattered in their canoes to various islands in that section. He adds:

"Have accomplished all that can be done here at this late season and will return with my command tomorrow."

ONE GOOD INDIAN.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 7.—A Walker special to the Dispatch says:

General Bacon thinks that one of the Indians killed by a sharp-shooter was Chief Bu-Go-Nay-Ka-Shig. He says they are completely whipped Indians.

The name of this Indian is apparently intended for Bug-Ah-Mah-Ge-Shing, who was the cause of the whole trouble, other Indians having taken him by force from the Deputy Marshals who were taking him to Duluth as a witness in an illegal liquor selling case.

GEN. BACON'S PLANS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The following dispatch from General Bacon has been received at the War Department:

"WALKER, Minn., Oct. 6, via Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 7.—Adjutant-General Washington.—One soldier killed today and one Indian police killed, one wounded. Number of Indians killed impossible to estimate.

They have now scatored in their canoes during the night to various islands in this section. Have accomplished all that can be done at this late season, and will return with my command tomorrow. Communication with this point rare and difficult.

(Signed) BACON,
"Brigadier-General."

It is stated at the War Department that the last dispatch probably means that General Bacon will return with his command to Fort Snelling unless the force is actually needed for the protection of the people in the vicinity.

TESTIMONY OF GEN. GREENE.

Gives the War Board Details of the China's Voyage to Manila.

Surgeon General Sternberg on the Medical Department's Lack of Doctors.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—General F. V. Greene, who was in charge of one of the divisions of the United States troops at the battle of Manila, was before the War Investigating Commission at its forenoon session today. He sailed from San Francisco to Manila on the steamer China, an excellent vessel, he said, which was inspected by a board of officers before it was chartered. He found the ship in good condition, but the men necessarily were crowded. Four months' provisions and a large quantity of Quartermaster's and medical supplies were carried. With a few exceptions the loading was carefully done, though there was some misplacement, owing to haste.

General Greene said that there was no complaint during the voyage of scarcity of supplies, but during the first two days out there was some dissatisfaction with the cooking. This was soon improved, and no criticism was heard afterwards.

The details of the ocean trip and of the battle of Malate were related in a manner calling for the closest attention from the commissioners, but covering the same ground as his report to the War Department recently made public. He spoke of the insurgents who lay between his forces and the Spanish lines. It was the witness' said impossible to make an estimate of their number, but he thought it was about 10,000. They are well supplied with Mauser and Remington rifles, many of which were captured from the Spanish, and others they had purchased abroad.

LIEUTENANT LAFFERTY'S CASE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Dr. William W. Walker, the physician who attended Lieutenant Lafferty in his last illness at Camp Wikoff, has sent an explanation of his connection with the case to the War Investigation Commission. The letter is dated October 2nd and was written from Fort Sam Houston, Texas. He says the Lieutenant had been wounded in Cuba and afterward had typhoid fever, which was followed by phlebitis. He got better, but afterwards developed pneumonia. The letter continues as follows:

"Dr. Dalafield, a very prominent New York physician, Colonel N. Senn, Major Thompson, Colonel Greenleaf, Captain Jackson, and some other prominent physicians were called in consultation in Lieutenant Lafferty's case, and a special nurse was detailed night and day to attend Lieutenant Lafferty, also an orderly, whose duty it was to devote his whole time to Lieutenant Lafferty. I saw him every hour during the day. I made my visit to the ward at 9 P. M., and again from 12 to 1 A. M., and again at 5:30 A. M. If anything occurred in the ward I was called and answered cheerfully at any hour. After Miss Annie Wheeler left us as chief nurse, Miss Murray, assistant nurse, was made chief. She is a noble, fine, hard-working, painstaking woman, who took special pains to see that Lieutenant Lafferty needed nothing we could give him.

"Lieutenant Lafferty was the only death in the officers' ward in three weeks. I had charge and no one regretted it more than your humble servant. Lieutenant Lafferty, if at home and able to command a million dollars, could not have secured higher medical talent or better nursing than he received in the officers' ward in Camp Wikoff, with everything in the world to prove the contrary.

"Mrs. Lafferty, Lieutenant Lafferty's mother, arrived at Camp Wikoff ten days before his death, and thereafter there was nothing Major Brown, Major Thompson, Captain Jackson, or Colonel Greenleaf, or myself could do to please her; the same with the lady nurses; and when Lieutenant Lafferty died, at 10 A. M., September 19th, she said 'they had killed her son and asked me to kill her.' I did my duty, as can be proved by every officer in the ward and medical man in the army."

STERNBERG'S COMPLAINT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Surgeon General Sternberg has sent to the commission investigating the conduct of the war the following memorandum relating to the medical department of the army:

"The number of medical officers allowed by law is inadequate in times of peace. The total number allowed is 192. There are at present thirteen vacancies. The administration of the Surgeon General's office and the army medical museum requires six. Eleven are on duty at medical supply depots and as chief surgeons of military departments. One is at the Soldiers' Home, fifty-six are at general hospitals, on hospital ships and at garrisoned posts. Four have been disabled since the commencement of the war by sickness. Five are on duty as chief surgeons of army corps. This leaves ninety-seven medical officers available for duty with troops in the field.

"Of these thirty-three have been appointed brigade surgeons of volunteers, and are distributed among the various army corps. Since the declaration of war the loss by death has been two, and twenty-three are now absent from duty on sick leave.

"This deficiency in regular medical officers has made it necessary to employ more than 650 contract surgeons. Most of these doctors from civil life are doing good service, and many of them are thoroughly well equipped physicians and surgeons, with ample hospital experience, but it has been impossible to make a careful selection, owing to the great pressure of business in the Surgeon General's office, and the urgency has been so great that it has not been practicable to have examining boards to pass upon their qualifications. I have endeavored, so far as possible, to order satisfactory professional endorsement before making a contract with an applicant. The number of applications has been so great and the personal visits of applicants and their friends so numerous as to constitute a serious embarrassment in conducting the business of my office."

"In addition to this, there have been appointed by the President eight corps surgeons with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, twenty-four division surgeons with the rank of Major, and eighty-six brigade surgeons; also three medical officers for each of the regiments of United States infantry, cavalry and engineers. All volunteer regiments have three medical officers appointed by Governors of States.

"The very small proportion of experienced medical officers has seriously embarrassed the efficiency of the medical department, but many of the division and brigade surgeons from civil life have shown great aptitude for the service and have already become valuable medical officers. The same is true of many of the doctors employed under contract.

"Referring to the alleged deficiency of medical officers with the Fifth Army Corps at Santiago, I would say that this corps upon leaving Tampa had with it thirty-six regular medical officers, fifteen commissioned volunteer medical officers and twenty contract doctors, a total of seventy-one, or over four per thousand of the strength of the command, which I was informed was about 16,000. Additional medical assistance was sent by the hospital ship Relief, which arrived at Siboney July 7th with twenty doctors on board. There was also some volunteer assistance by Dr. Lesser of the Red Cross Society, Dr. Rudberg of the Swedish navy, and several surgeons of the navy from ships in the vicinity.

"It has not been the expectation of the medical department that every wounded man would immediately receive the attention of a surgeon. No modern army makes provision for such a large number of medical officers as this would require. But attached to our army there is a corps of non-combatants known as the Hospital Corps, which is the organized and authorized Red Cross of the army.

"At the outbreak of the war we had 800 Hospital Corps men in service; at present there are more than 6,000. These men wear a brazard upon the left arm, bearing the Red Cross of the Geneva convention.

"We have done our best to instruct them in giving aid to the wounded, and in a majority of cases a first-aid dressing properly applied by one of these men is all that is required. All of the surgeons who have come from the front have testified to the remarkable results obtained from the prompt application of dressings by our Hospital Corps men and by the soldiers themselves or their comrades.

"The proper application of the dressings contained in the first-aid packet which is carried by every soldier, is, under existing regulations, a matter in which every enlisted man has special instruction. For some time past this instruction has been given first by our medical officers to the company officers and by them to the enlisted men."

Oregon's Senatorial Fight.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 7.—The Oregon Legislature in joint assembly today took another vote for United States Senator. With the exception that the Fusionists cast their vote for M. A. Miller of Lebanon, the situation remains unchanged. Members who are supporting H. W. Corbett for the Senatorship have called a caucus for tonight.

NEW CRISIS FOR FRANCE.

Paralyzing Strike of Paris Workmen May Result in Revolution.

Fierce Battles With the Police and the Exposition Jeopardized.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The strike here has extended to nearly all the building trades and it is feared the railroad men will join in the movement.

Work on the exhibition buildings and underground railroad has completely ceased. About 60,000 men have gone out on strike and the situation is causing consternation. Their attitude is increasingly aggressive, and fights between strikers and so-called "black legs" are incessant, involving the intervention of the police, troops and mounted Republican Guards, who have been obliged to repeatedly change the strikers. The quarters in which rioting has taken place are patrolled by strong detachments of police and troops.

There are great apprehensions lest the agitators turn the strike movement to political ends.

The Temps declares that the leaders of the men are aiming at a general strike, if not a revolution, and points out what a dreadful thing it would be if the exhibition of 1900 is compromised.

The last news this morning is that the municipal Council and the contractors have come to an agreement regarding the demands of the laborers, and hopes are expressed that the strike will end in a few days.

But in spite of the hopes entertained of a termination of the strike, more men struck today, and numerous bands of strikers visited various works for the purpose of forcing men to join in the strike. The police dispersed these bands and arrested a number of leaders of the disturbers. Additional reinforcements of troops have been drafted into the city from outlying garrisons.

GENERALS OF VOLUNTEERS OUT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The War Department today issued the long-expected order for the honorable discharge from the volunteer service of the United States of three Major Generals and Twenty-six Brigadier Generals of Volunteers. This heavy reduction was made necessary by the fact that the volunteer army itself has already been reduced by fully fifty per cent, and there is consequently no duty remaining for these officers to discharge. The officers who were promoted from the regular army will return to their former duties. The list is as follows:

Major Generals.—John Coppinger, October 13, 1898; Hamilton S. Hawkins, November 30, 1898; Jacob S. Kent, November 30, 1898.

Brigadier Generals, to take effect October 30, 1898.—Francis L. Gunther, A. E. Bates, George L. Gillespie, L. F. Hubbard, J. R. Wattles, Charles H. Mattocks, M. W. Sheafe, J. H. Barkley, J. W. Plume, T. L. Rosser, J. K. Hudson.

Brigadier Generals, to take effect November 30, 1898.—John I. Rodgers, A. S. Burt, P. C. Haines, G. A. Garretson, H. A. Duffield, J. B. Babcock, Roy Stone, W. F. Randolph, Henry Carroll, E. P. Pearson, J. H. Page, William W. Wherry, Charles D. Viele, A. S. Daggett, J. V. Patterson.

Brigadier Generals Bates, Gillispie, John B. Babcock and Peter Haines will continue their present duties.

LUCANIA ADRIFT OFF IRISH COAST.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 7.—The Cunard Line steamer Lucania, Captain McKay, which left New York on October 1 for Liverpool by way of this port, was sighted off Brow Head at 2:10 P. M. today, apparently in a disabled condition.

SPAIN KNOWS HER WEAKNESS.

The Philippines Are Lost to Her and She Makes the Best of the Situation.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The American and Spanish peace commissioners again confront each other this afternoon.

The Americans held a session this morning and were occupied with Washington correspondence. During the recess they have sought to perfect the United States' position in relation to the alternative or contingent attitude or propositions of the Spanish this afternoon. Thus far the former substance of the American presentment has not been disclosed. It was its presentation at Monday's joint session which caused the Spaniards to ask for or demand a recess from Monday until Friday. Whatever was new or stronger will possibly develop from the American side as having resulted from the conference with Major-General Merritt since Monday's joint session. If the Americans were then sweeping in their demands regarding the Philippine islands, they have certainly not been weakened by the statements of General Merritt.

However, it is possible that the Spaniards will enter the session today fully appreciating their position as the vanquished, although they will strenuously urge the existence of rights and equities remaining to the vanquished.

On this subject the Gaulois says that during the last twenty-four hours sensational and alarming news has been afloat regarding the negotiations. It cites the English papers' allegations that Judge Day has cabled to Washington saying that the negotiations for a treaty of peace are on the verge of stopping, owing to the refusal of Madrid to accept the United States' attitude regarding the Philippine islands.

The Gaulois also cites a statement to the effect that Judge Day has been authorized to suspend negotiations if the Spaniards do not conform to the American views, and declares it can affirm that this news is absolutely incorrect. It declares, however, that whereas the Spaniards at the outset were obdurate, they are now disposed to modify their intentions, owing to the firmness of the attitude of the United States, the people of which, it is declared, have now been excited to the point of insisting upon holding the Philippines.

The utterances of Attorney-General Griggs before the Republican convention at Trenton, N. J., last week are cited as showing that the United States' purpose is expansion. Spain is alleged to be beginning to realize this, and it is said she will finally agree to give up Manila and the Island of Luzon, on condition that the United States assumes the Philippine debt, amounting to $40,000,000, and accord privileges to Spanish trade.

In conclusion the Gaulois says:

"We think we are authorized to say that President McKinley will agree to a settlement on this basis."

The joint session of the Peace Commission was reconvened at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

SPAIN SENDS TROOPS TO THE PHILIPPINES.

Dewey Cables That the Dons are Coming to Panay.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Admiral Dewey has cabled the Navy Department that he has been advised that a number of Spanish troops have arrived at Singapore, bound for the Philippines to reinforce the Spanish garrison at Iloilo on the Island of Panay.

At this place is concentrated about all that remains of the Spanish army of occupation of the Philippines outside of the few troops on the Island of Luzon. In dispatching troops from Spain to the islands, the Spanish government has raised the direct question as to the right to reinforce troops now engaged in active hostilities with the insurgent forces.

The weight of opinion here is that the action is permissible, and does not constitute a breach of the terms of the protocol suspending hostilities. A good deal, however, may depend on whether the Spaniards confine themselves to a defensive position or undertake to carry on an offensive warfare against the insurgents.

The Cabinet today gave some consideration to this subject, which in the end is likely to be left to the disposition of the peace commission.

Leader of Republican Party Is Given a Splendid Reception.

Able Discussion of Issues of State Campaign—Maguire's Dangerous Theories Are Fully Exposed.

Henry T. Gage, Republican candidate for Governor, addressed the students of the State University yesterday at Stiles Hall, Berkeley. There has never been a larger political gathering or a more enthusiastic audience in the college town. When Victor Metcalf said that where intelligence, culture and refinement abounds Republicans are most numerous, he knew whereof he spoke, if yesterday's meeting is taken as a criterion.

Stiles Hall was crowded to the doors, and on the stairway leading to the upper auditorium students elbowed each other for the privilege of getting a glimpse of the distinguished speaker or hearing even a portion of his able argument in behalf of the principles of the Republican party.

The students thoroughly appreciated the eloquence of the Republican standard bearer. Every word of his speech was weighed with deliberation—every good point in the address received approval in the form of liberal and prolonged applause. Yesterday's meeting demonstrated that Henry T. Gage and the students of the University are close together.

Mr. Gage was accompanied to Berkeley by Judge Van R. Paterson. The gentlemen were met by a committee of students consisting of J. A. McGee, B. H. Donnell, Charles Fryer, Duncan McDuffee, Harry Linscott and C. E. Thomas, and driven in carriages from the station to the hall.

J. A. McGee presided at the meeting and in a graceful speech introduced Henry T. Gage, "the next Governor of California." The applause that greeted Mr. Gage visibly affected him. It was a reception far warmer than he had expected, and he said so. His address follows:

GAGE'S SPEECH.

"Gentlemen of the University of California: While I am very much gratified by this pleasing reception, it is with some diffidence that I address you, because my own early struggles denied me the opportunity which you are afforded of, a thorough University training. My education, beginning and ending in the public schools, has, however, none the less made me an admirer of the higher education which it is the duty as well as the desire of the people of California to supply to our young people.

"With the higher development of our faculties the purer and stronger we become politically as well as ethically. Indeed, ethics and politics should be inseparably united, for the reason that in the education of the morals as well as the intellect of the young depends the liberties of the people. A free mind is indispensable to a free man, and mental freedom requires the development of the moral as well as the intellectual faculties.

"That patriotism increases with education has been gloriously manifested in this very seat of learning during the recent war, when Berkeley sent forth gallant volunteers in greater proportion to the population than any other part of the State.

"From you, gentlemen, with the high and scholarly attainments developed by accomplished professors and tutors, the people hope to select their future statesmen and leaders of public opinion. The common school is the crown of citizenship, and the University is the sceptre.

"Our State branch of the great party which now sustains and guides our national policy under the statesmanship of President McKinley, alive to the pressing need of continuing and improving the high grade of scholarship in this great University, has pledged itself as follows:

"'The University of California has in the past been the recipient of the care of the Republican party, under whose liberal support it has been enabled to reach its present high standard. We pledge ourselves to continue that support and make the University worthy in every respect of the most enthusiastic hopes of the people. It fitly crowns the educational system of the State.'

"I assure you, gentlemen, that if elected Governor, I will faithfully keep my part of that pledge, and I will do everything in my power to assist your professors and tutors in making your University the peer of any in the United States.

PLEASED WITH STUDENTS.

"I am pleased to find you so deeply interested in the politics of your State, for it is only through a jealous guardianship of its political affairs by men of education that the evils which menace us at all times, through the arts of the demagogue and the insidious wiles of those opposed to representative government may be overcome and the liberties of the people maintained.

"I take this opportunity to thank you for the zeal manifested for my candidacy and especially for the marked approval shown by the formation of a College Club under my name. I do not, however, vainly believe that this approval is due to any of my individual acts, but is only an expression of your loyalty to the grand principles of the Republican party of which I am an humble representative.

"Your division into parties in this University is proper, in the sense that it arouses discussion of principles, and this discussion will enable the students of the University to determine what will be best for the interests of the State and nation.

"Touching the issues of this campaign, I will confine myself to a brief statement of a few important matters to which I wish to direct your attention, and which, I am convinced, materially affect the present campaign.

"One of the main subjects for consideration is substantially presented through the personal activity of the leader of the three diverse parties opposed to the Republican party in the theory of single tax—a theory gathered and formulated by Henry George from the socialism of Europe. I am satisfied that the sound instruction which you have received in political economy from the learned professors of this University will enable you to analyze and easily refute the pernicious principles which form the basis of this scheme for the destruction of land tenures. I will here but briefly call your attention to some of the public acts and speeches of my distinguished opponent, Hon. James G. Maguire, who has for years advocated in Congress this anarchic doctrine now denounced by the Republican party, and whose Congressional acts and speeches, including those upon single tax, have been heartily endorsed and commended by the platform of the new Fusion Democracy.

THE SINGLE TAX.

"Notwithstanding this (Mr. Maguire's) remarkable effervescence of socialism, denying all private property in land and opposing the Government's right to tax personal property, one might have expected that he would concede the right of the miner on public mineral land to the ore and metal extracted from the land, or that he would admit his right by discovery to have the land patented, giving him a continuous right to secure private ownership in the precious substances discovered and worked. Customs and usages of mining, in all civilized and progressive nations, have given the miner the benefit of his discovery and labor, and through this incentive the world has witnessed great human struggles for the development of material wealth.

"The miner's labor, stimulated by hope, has opened the sides of the mountains and disclosed veins of precious and useful ores, and poured the molten metals through the channels of the commercial and social world. His labor has explored the desert, and through his industry his cabin has given way to towns and cities. The vigor of the prospector, spurred by the sense of gain, has yielded civilization to the forest, built school houses and developed industries richer and grander than the yellow prize. Surely, fellow citizens, this one, at least, should be entitled to the fruits of his labor and enterprise. Yet not so at all, if we will give heed to Mr. Maguire's scheme of single tax, which the new Democracy has adopted.

"In the course of the same single tax speech just referred to, in his attempt to defeat the Wilson bill, to relieve the money lender from taxation and to impose the burden upon the farmer and land owner, he repudiates the miner's right to the product of his labor; for, even as to him, Mr. Maguire invokes the single tax imposition. I read from page 2752 of the Congressional Record of February 11, 1894. The following is Mr. Maguire's language:

"'The margin of production which is now the share of the non-producer would go to the entire community for the general benefit of all. This would be just, because the margin of production results in all cases from the presence and enterprise and efforts of the whole community, except in so far as it represents the value of great natural deposits, such as coal, iron, gold, silver, copper, lead, petroleum, quicksilver and the like, under the earth, and forests over the earth; and these deposits and forests were prepared and stored by the Creator for the general, common use of all mankind. It is right that their value should be given to the whole people whenever private individuals extract them from the earth.'

"Gentlemen, this is one of the 'faithful and efficient services' of the leader of the new Democracy, for which he has been commended by his party, and these are some of the views of him who promises to assist our State mining property rights.

MAGUIRE'S DEMOCRACY.

"Will he who has toiled and perspired in the depths of the earth, or the prospector who has suffered hunger and thirst in his journey throughout the arid lands of the State, hesitate to choose between the Republican party, which fosters his industry and is pledged to conserve his vested rights, and the new Democracy, which, through its distinguished leader, will deny him, if it can, the private reward and property rights to which he is entitled by his brain, his muscle and his privations? Fortunately for the people of this State as well as of the United States, the old Democracy from which Mr. Maguire withdrew in 1887 was again in power in 1893, and as Mr. Maguire's new Democracy contained only six members, his single tax amendment to the Wilson bill was overwhelmingly defeated. But the leader of the new Democracy did not stop here with his plan of divesting the people of their private rights in and to landed property. Mr. Maguire rendered more 'faithful and efficient services' for the single tax which have commended him to his party.

"On the 23d of April, 1897 (as appears from volume 30, number 32, page 1120 of the Congressional Record) Mr. Maguire, while discussing the Indian Appropriation bill in the House, intent upon the single tax scheme of the new Democracy, again gave vent to the following view denying the right of private ownership in land. He said: 'The land of every country has ever been, and is, and must forever remain, of natural right, the inalienable right of the whole people, in spite of anything that may be done to deprive them of it. Governments may and must regulate the use of the land, but they should, and the time is not far distant when all nations will, so regulate the use and treatment of all land as to preserve inviolate the common, natural, equal rights of all their citizens in such lands.'

RIGHT OF PRIVATE OWNERSHIP.

"Again, fellow citizens, 'the faithful and efficient services' which his party has approved were exhibited by Mr. Maguire in a speech in the House March 10, 1898, upon the Senate 'free homestead' amendment to the bill making appropriations, when he again vehemently expressed his denial of the right of private ownership of land and the owner's right to the land's rise in value, which Mr. Maguire denominates, in the language of single taxism, 'the unearned increment.' In the same address before the House, Mr. Maguire adopted, for the purposes of his argument, one of the early, self confessed errors of Herbert Spencer, the English philosopher, an error committed in 1850, when Spencer was young and inexperienced, and long before the maturity of his great sociological works. I am satisfied, from the rumors of Mr. Maguire's extensive reading of political economy and kindred subjects, that he was well aware at the time that he used this argument that Mr. Spencer had, in 1891, in his 'Data of Ethics,' frankly acknowledged his early error in assuming that the private ownership in land is not based upon natural ideas of justice. In the 'Data of Ethics' Mr. Spencer uses the following forcible and comprehensive answer to the basic theory of the single taxers:

"'Were the direct exercise of ownership to be resumed by the community without purchase, the community would take, along with something which is its own, an immensely greater amount of something which is not its own. Even if we ignore those multitudinous complications which, in the course of century after century, have inextricably entangled men's claims, theoretically considered, even if we reduce the case to its simplest theoretical form, we must admit that all which can be claimed for the community is the surface of the country in its original unsubdued state. To all that value given to it by clearing, breaking up, prolonged culture, fencing, draining, making roads, farm buildings, and so forth, constituting nearly all its value, the community has no claim. This value has been given either by personal labor or by labor paid for, or by ancestral labor, or else the value given to it in such ways has been purchased by legitimately earned money. All this value, artificially given, vests in existing owners, and cannot, without gigantic robbery, be taken from them.'

THE POOR MAN.

"Fellow citizens, that these plain principles are consonant with justice may be seen from practical illustrations. An instance may be given. A poor man has gone into an unsettled part of the State and secured, through the beneficence of the Government, a homestead of one hundred and sixty acres of land, which could not be sold in the market for the Government price of two dollars and a half per acre. He has labored for years upon it and around it, cutting down trees, building a cottage and out-houses and constructing roads. He has earned for himself, during years of practical isolation, an uncertain livelihood, trusting, however, that in the end the property may become desirable and marketable. He has at last received a patent for the land from the United States, and, being invested with the title, again waits some years for a purchaser. Meanwhile other settlers have taken adjoining tracts. A town has grown up near by. A railroad has established a station there and commercially united this territory with the cities of the State. The land of the settler rises in value. He wishes to improve his condition by selling all or a portion of his land. He is met by Mr. Maguire's denial of his right to sell this land at the increased price. This rise in value belongs, says Mr. Maguire, to the whole people. It is the unearned increment. Therefore, the settler must be deprived of this increase in land value by the application of the single tax. Take another instance: A miner has discovered a mine, has lived in his cabin on the mountain side for years, delving the earth and earning a bare subsistence. He thinks the mine is a valuable one, yet he has no means of erecting a big stamp mill upon it and expensive machinery for extracting the valuable metal. He complies with the United States mining law and secures a patent—a title to the earth and mineral. Other mines are discovered. Towns grow up in the neighborhood, and railroad connection is made by which the ore can be, at comparatively cheap rates, transported to the city smelting works for treatment. The mine has become valuable and has excited the cupidity of investors. He wants to sell the mine, but is met by Mr. Maguire's denial of his private ownership, and by the application of the single tax, taking away this enhanced value, which Mr. Maguire and his party choose to call the unearned increment.

LIBERTIES OF THE PEOPLE.

"The real underlying issue presented to the people means more than mere party success. The battle of ideas, which is prophetic of future political action, makes this a time of great concern, in which local prejudices should yield to calm deliberation. The Republican party, again reasserting its national principles, maintains as a basic proposition that the advancement of the American people and the perpetuation of their liberties depend upon the retention of the present system of representative government, with its grand system of checks and balances, alike protecting minorities from the passions of majorities and preserving the rights of the whole people from the encroachments of minorities. Our party now stands, as it has always stood, for the maintenance of the Constitution and the laws and the liberty of the people.

"Its great rival, the old time Democratic party, which revered the Constitution, stood at least for law and order, notwithstanding its erroneous policy, and nursed a brood of Titanic statesmen, loyal to the country—that Democratic party of the past—is either dead or sleeping. The old debates upon the question whether Federal powers should be strictly or liberally construed, and whether the tariff should be for revenue or protection, are no longer heard or presented. In place of that brave and brilliant antagonism there now appears arrayed against us a coalition of three parties, fused and confused, asserting in one platform the doctrine of State's rights, in another the annihilation of all rights, both of States and individuals. A change in the Constitution, both State and Federal, is demanded.

"New and various governmental theories are offered to the people—the initiative and referendum of socialism—the single tax of Henry George—the Government ownership and management of railroads, telegraphs, telephones and all public utilities—the Government operation of railroads as public highways for all competitors—the removal of all tariff on imports, and substitution of direct taxes upon the people of the States for the support of the Federal Government—the nationalization of the land—the Governmental distribution of silver and paper money, cheapened by the sovereign fiat—the abolition of the judicial writ of injunction—the election of President, Vice President and United States Senators by a direct vote of the people—and finally, the denial of all individual rights by Populism, and the repudiation of all Federal rights by the Fusion Democracy.

A RATIONAL POSITION.

"An ingenious leader, pliant to all these revolutionary demands, endeavors to elaborate from them a homogeneous system of government. But, fellow citizens, when viewed from a rational position, do not these demands signify that the principles of the fusion party have declared our American representative government a failure, and that they will build up for us a new system which will be based upon the theory of popular majorities? Not a President nor statesman, from the great Washington to our present distinguished Executive, through all changes and grades of political opinions, has ever challenged that glorious Constitution, or denied the wisdom of its magnificent principle of checks and balances in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the Republic. More than a century has elapsed since its adoption. Other nations have fallen and new nations have risen in their places. Wars, foreign and domestic, have devastated our country; political parties have waged bitter political battles; and yet that Constitution remained unchanged and dear to American hearts until the year 1896.

"In that year the American people, for the first time, heard the rumble of revolt; for the first time in their history they were told that the representative Republic was a failure; that their liberty was imaginary, and that paternalism was the only solution for individual right and individual liberty. To undo the work of our American founders was the effort of the fusionists. The Constitution-burner was ready with his torch, and the life of American representative government depended upon the ballot. Gallantly to our aid came Democratic statesmen and their loyal followers, who loved and believed in the work of their forefathers. Yes, even the Democratic strict constructionists of Federal power, 'seeing the peril,' dashed valiantly to our assistance. The ballot decided the issue, and the American Constitution, which had defied the sword and musket, triumphed over the ballots of the fusionists through the intelligence of the American electors.

CONSTITUTION-DESTROYER.

"Fellow citizens, the Constitution-destroyer is once more in rebellion. The contest of 1896, in a crude form, is to be waged again in this State. We have one new socialistic issue to meet—the single tax system of the leader of the Fusionists, a system that was disastrously defeated, with its founder, by the people of the United States in 1887.

"In this contest, as in 1896, we trust in the reason of American electors, as opposed to passion and prejudice—in the love of Americans for American institutions—in American respect for courts of justice—in fine, we trust the issue to the clear heads and brave hearts of all Americans who adore their flag, revere the Constitution and believe in the rights of personal liberty and of private property, vested through the just and equal administration of American law."

JUDGE PATERSON.

Judge Van R. Paterson followed and made a speech replete with wit and good humor. After the meeting there was an informal reception, at which the students and others fairly fought with each other to grasp the hand of Mr. Gage, and reassure him of their unstinted support and loyalty to the principles of the Republican party.

Junk Dealer's Troubles.

Solomon Baumgarten, the junk dealer, is once more in trouble. This time it is not with junk dealer Pantosky, with whom he is usually at outs, but because of an attachment levied on his store by Deputy Constable Magill.

Several days ago Baumgarten was sued in Judge Wood's court by A. W. McDonald for $33.00 alleged to be due for carpenter work. As Baumgarten did not pay the money, an attachment on his store was levied, and his stock moved to an up-town furniture house. When this was done Baumgarten could not be consoled, and threw himself on the ground.

Sued the Wrong Person.

The case of Harry L. Horn against Joseph Lavinge for $20 for medical services rendered defendant's divorced wife by Dr. C. P. Henry, was up for a hearing in Judge Clift's court yesterday.

After hearing the testimony Judge Clift decided that the evidence did not show that defendant was responsible for payment of the bill, and gave judgment in his favor.

THIS IS UNUSUAL NEWS.

The Fact that the Government Has Made a Remarkable Decision Regarding Whiskey.

Under the new revenue stamp law, whiskies are exempt from special taxation, but medicines are taxed. It is a notable fact, however, that one whiskey is compelled by the Government to use the proprietary stamp on the ground that it is a medicinal preparation. This solitary exception is made in the case of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Its peculiar medicinal qualities being thus recognized by the Government, as it has been recognized by hundreds of thousands of people who have experienced its curative qualities. This fact has long been known to the medical profession, viz: that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a medicinal whiskey prepared especially for the use of invalids and for the specific treatment of all diseases where a tonic is desired.

THE CLOSING SESSION OF THE BAPTISTS.

Committees Named to Serve For Ensuing Year.

Money Is Now Wanted For the California College.

DISCUSSIONS BY THE MINISTERS.

Clergymen Plan to Do Much Good Work During the Coming Term.

The Central Baptist Association closed its annual session at the Tenth Avenue Church in East Oakland last evening. Yesterday afternoon an interesting programme was carried out.

Deacon E. R. Stockwell of Stockton led in prayer.

The Committee on Place of Meeting reported that the next session will be with the church at Golden Gate.

Rev. W. C. Jenkins will preach the annual sermon, with S. C. Keetch as alternate. Rev. E. A. Woods was appointed for the doctrinal sermon, with Rev. E. R. Bennett as alternate.

Rev. C. H. Hobart presented the report on State Missions. He said: "No State or Territory is neglected, though the demand for workers is far beyond the ability of the society to supply. Over 1,030 workers draw on the treasury of the society for support.

"The educational work among the colored people of the South is of great magnitude and importance. Every year is demonstrating the wisdom of work in this direction. Over 5,000 students have been studying the past year in the schools of the society. Over 1,700 are preparing to teach, and nearly 400 to preach the gospel. There was never such a demand on the society for an enlargement of its work as today."

After the address of D. E. C. Woods on the home of children of people engaged in missionary work, a collection was taken up, and $20.50 was contributed to the fund.

A paper was read by W. T. H. Webster on the work of the society.

A soprano solo was given by Miss Birdie Pugh.

Mrs. L. A. Johnson gave an able resume of the woman's work.

The report of the Committee on Education was read. It gave a description of the new Baptist College, and its aims and ambitions, and suggested several improvements now needed.

Miss Ross of the Chinese kindergarten gave an interesting account of the work being done.

Rev. J. D. Pierce was followed by Calvin Esterley of Berkeley on a discussion on the subject, "An Advance Step in Educational Work," and the Rev. S. C. Keetch talked on "What Lines." Discussion of the educational work was concluded by President S. G. Brownson, who urged a united effort to raise $100,000 for California College. A resolution was adopted endorsing the president's remark and bespeaking a strong effort to raise $3,000 for the convention debt this year.

Rev. D. R. Bennett led the half-hour prayer and devotional exercises.

Mechanical Dolls.

All but walk and talk at H. Schellhaas, cor. Eleventh and Franklin sts.

The well known poem, "Curfew Shall Not Ring To-night," in which a young woman by hanging to the curfew bell saves the life of her lover condemned to be executed at the ringing of the curfew, is only one of a thousand striking instances of how a woman will dare everything for love.

Women are readier to make heroic sacrifices than they are to take the commonplace, everyday precautions which insure their greatest happiness. Most women are careless about their health. They forget that physical weakness and disease will wreck the fairest chance in life and shut them out completely from happy womanhood and wifehood.

Weak, bilious, dyspeptic women are robbed of their natural attractiveness and capacity. They lose healthy color and energy and ambition. The blood becomes poor and thin and laden with disease-germs.

The true antidote for this condition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly upon the digestive powers and the liver, creating pure, red, healthy blood free from bilious impurities; it renovates every organ and tissue of the body, building up hard, elastic flesh and muscular strength and imparting nerve power and permanent vitality, which malt extracts do not give.

Mrs. Ella Howell, of Derby, Perry Co., Ind., writes: "In the year of 1894 I was taken with stomach trouble—nervous dyspepsia. There was a coldness in my stomach, and a weight which seemed like a rock. Everything that I ate gave me great pain; I had a bearing down sensation; was swelled across my stomach; had a ridge around my right side, and in a short time I was bloated. I was treated by three of our best physicians but got no relief. I was so weak I could not walk across the room without assistance. Then Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me and I got it, and commenced the use of it. I began to improve very fast after the use of a few bottles. The physicians said my disease was leading into pulmonary consumption, and gave me up to die. I thank God that my cure is permanent."

CRANIUMS OF FOOTBALL MEN ARE ENLARGED.

Defeat of the Olympics Has an Injurious Effect.

University Boys Startle Dawson With Class Yells.

ALAMEDA HANDBALL GAMES.

Sergeant Harvey Writes That the Vancouver Hard Luck Stories Are Exaggerated.

BERKELEY, Oct. 7.—Coach Cochran is anything but elated over the hollow victory won by his colts in Saturday's football game. Before that triumph they were tractable and worked splendidly together, but since the papers have made so much of their easy defeat of the Olympics the boys seem to think there is nothing more for them to learn and that faithful practice is rather a waste of time. Cochran can be depended upon, however, to disabuse their plastic minds of that impression. He has picked the following crack players for the University table at the White House, where they will be under Trainer Lean's watchful eye: Center, Griesberg; guard, Hooper; tackles, Pringle and Cornish; end rushes, Craig, Whipple and Masters; quarterbacks, Hopper and Kerfoot; halfbacks, Hall, Thane, McNab and Smith; fullbacks, Kaarsburg and Moore. McNab and Smith are freshmen.

The Californian, the University student daily, publishes an interesting letter from Walter A. Starr, a member of the class of '98, who went to Dawson some time ago to try his fortunes as a gold seeker. An extract from his letter follows:

"At last Dawson is civilized. Today for the first time the college 'yell' caused the Indians to start and the Siwash dogs to howl as a small group of U. C. men saluted the departure of Kleruiff, ex-'99, on the steamer Yukoner, bound for home and good old Berkeley. In fact, both Stanford and Berkeley men have been in evidence for the past two months, and you need not be surprised to hear shortly of the Dawson City University Club."

Messrs. Le Conte, Addison and Niehaus, the committee appointed by the Town Trustees of Berkeley to inquire into the feasibility of a municipal water supply, expect to report within thirty days.

The funeral of the late Alva A. Richardson, who died at Lincoln, Neb., last Saturday, was held this afternoon at the undertaking parlors of Albert Brown.

The committee consisting of Warren Gregory '87, William Denman '84 and M. C. Flaherty '96, appointed by the University Alumni Association to endeavor to bring that organization into closer relations with the undergraduate students, has offered to attend a meeting of the Students' Executive Committee.

The Republicans of Berkeley will hold a grand rally and ratification tonight at Shattuck Hall. Republican candidates for the county offices will be present to make addresses, and the Campaign Quartette will furnish music.

The freshman class held an enjoyable social this afternoon at Stiles' Hall.

J. A. Morgan's design for a class pin has been accepted by the freshman committee.

The University Sketch Club has elected the following officers: Harold Symmes '99, president; Carter '02, vice president; S. G. Masters '02, secretary; Tolman '01, treasurer; H. Bradley '00, manager.

There will be an interesting debate tonight between the team representing the University Students' Congress and a similar body from the Hastings Law College. The question to be argued is: "Resolved, That the United States should hold the Philippines as a permanent possession. The Berkeley men have the negative side of the question, the law college the affirmative.

The order of play for the competitors who have entered the fall championship tennis tournament, to be held at the Madison courts in Oakland, was decided by lot yesterday afternoon. All matches will be the best two out of three sets, except the finals, which will be the best three out of five. The result of the drawing was: Mein vs. Jones, Krugli vs. Wheeler, Hunt vs. Boke, Powers vs. Merrill, Dozier vs. L. Hunter, J. Hoffman vs. Zoderman, Doremus vs. U. C. Hunter, O'Brien vs. Hovey, Hussey vs. Carpenter, Stark vs. D. Smith, Eckart vs. Dickerson, Smith vs. Selby, Tracey vs. Stone, Ruland vs. White, Bruntsch drew a bye. The withdrawal of Sumner Hardy leaves the championship a very open question.

At the request of a number of his students, Prof. Putzker has expressed his willingness to repeat his lecture on the "Graces and Disgraces of the Hispano-American War" which he delivered at the University a week ago.

Lately the University library has been suffering losses from the contemptible theft of books. Some of the missing volumes can only with difficulty be replaced, on account of their being out of print. The faculty is seriously considering the advisability of closing up the shelves from free use. During the year of 1897-98 books to the value at retail prices of $218 were stolen. The library contains at present nearly 70,000 volumes, mostly reference works. If access to them is restricted it means that but a possible thousand of all the books now at the disposal of the students will remain for current reference.

Guy Guinan, a student of the Cooper Medical College and a resident of Berkeley, received a severe fracture of the skull in alighting from the Sacramento street car Tuesday morning. The young man is not expected to live.

Clinton R. Morse of Berkeley, better known at ound college as "Brick" Morse, is studying music at present in New York, preparatory to similar work in Europe.

The Ladies' Relief Society of the German M. E. Church of Lorin met at the home of Mrs. Johns yesterday afternoon.

At the meeting of the Democrats of West Berkeley, at the Beacon Fire House, for the purpose of forming a Maguire Club, over sixty signed the roll. The following officers were elected: President, D. W. McLaughlin; vice president, D. Newell; secretary, J. Donahue; treasurer, W. J. Curtis.

Man's best friends has again demonstrated his love for humanity—raw and tender. Little Inga Johnson, an 11-year-old Berkeley girl, was attacked by a dog Tuesday evening, the brute throwing her down and biting her severely before the neighbors could come to her assistance.

APPEAL TO THE SUPREME COURT.

Plaintiff in the suit of the Oakland Transit Company against the County of Alameda has given notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court. The appeal is taken from the order bringing the motion to set aside judgment in favor of defendant. The action was originally brought to recover taxes.

Professor Armes' Views.

Editor Tribune: Lest some should think the closing of the reading rooms a mere "bluff," or judge that the Trustees had acted precipitately in not waiting to learn the Mayor's decision concerning the tax levy, may I again trespass on your space to explain to the public the exact status of affairs?

As I have previously shown, the tax levy now in the hands of the Mayor will give the Library Trustees an income of less than $300 a month for the remainder of the fiscal year, in place of $1,500 a month, as the department has had for the last five years. We have, therefore, notified the owners and agents from whom we rent reading rooms that we may want them for only a portion of the month, and have arranged to pay pro rata for the time that we are actually in possession. By closing them in the interim and putting into force the new schedule of hours for the library, we save the salaries of the curators, the difference between the old and the new salaries of the library employes and the expense of lighting; and if the tax levy is approved by the Mayor we shall have urgent need of every dollar saved.

We have not as yet abandoned the rooms; nothing has been removed, and the morning after we are granted sufficient funds for their support they can be opened as usual. On the other hand, if the tax levy is approved by the Mayor, the chairman of the Reading Room Committee has been authorized by the Board to remove and store the books and furniture in the various rooms as soon as possible.

And may I point out that, if this is done, the rooms can hardly be opened inside of a year? A new Board of Trustees and a new Council will be elected in March. The new Board will probably not care to go to the expense of refitting the rooms till it knows the income it will receive from the new Council, and that cannot be told till the tax levy is fixed a year from the present time.

In conclusion, whatever the amount received from the tax levy, the Board of Trustees will, in the future, as in the past, "exercise the same care that the private individual would do in like emergencies." But the library and the five reading rooms cannot be efficiently conducted on less than a four cent rate. Very respectfully

UNION LABEL

FRIDAY.....OCTOBER 7, 1898.

Pay dirt has been struck in Oakland. The street sweepers are busy.

Mexican dollars are now quoted at 46¾ cents. They will soon be only of value as pocket pieces. Bryan's free silver theory is indeed a lost cause, in view of the developments of the past two years.

"Students who will wear the stripes" was the way one head writer fixed up the article about the promotions of university cadets. The caption gave quite a shock to some of the relatives of the U. C. men until they delved into the item.

The Independents say that they are going to have large posters printed bearing the names of their candidates and will paste them on every dead wall in the county. That's the place to put them—their association with dead walls will be perfectly appropriate.

Chaplain McIntyre is sacrificing his reputation in order to save himself. His defense that he drank a bottle of brandy before he gave that celebrated lecture knocks holes in his ministerial character as big as those made in the Maria Teresa by "Fighting Bob" Evans, whom he slandered.

The American Indians appear to be the only race of people in the world who are not afraid of Uncle Sam after they have come in contact with him. The braves certainly deserve their title, especially in view of the fact that they know exactly what kind of game they are bucking up against.

It will be a man's own fault if he doesn't become acquainted with the issues of this campaign and see the candidates he is asked to vote for. The district meetings in Oakland and in fact throughout Alameda county are so frequent and the ground is so thoroughly covered that everybody has an opportunity to participate.

The Oregon starts out tomorrow to break another long distance record, this time with the Iowa as a running mate. The boys who enlisted on the Oregon are getting an opportunity to see lots of the world without any waste of time. They will be the lions of the hour when they get home again after their long spell of active service.

Good government clubs are evidently not very popular in China. The six councillors who urged the Emperor to undertake reforms are to be put to death for their enterprise. What a paradise such a place would seem to our mossbacks and silurians, and it is a pity that we can't ship them there, for then the pleasure would work both ways.

A gushing Minneapolis reporter wires that the lieutenant of one of the volunteer regiments that fought the battle with the Chippewas, the officer in question having been accidentally left behind, became "white with rage" when he heard that his fellow-soldiers are to be kept at the front until the war is over. In view of the fact that he had been ordered to rejoin his regiment as speedily as possible, there may have been some other cause for his pallor.

The widespread interest that is being taken in the Oakland Exposition is shown by the variety of applications that are pouring in. The outside counties are evidently satisfied that it is going to take the place of the annual State fair at the Mechanics' Pavilion and are making their arrangements accordingly. Oakland never had a better time to spread herself and every possible advantage should be taken of the opportunity.

The man who thinks that the California farmer is a simple-minded, know-nothing individual who will buy gold bricks and "green goods" on sight if he only has the money, will quickly change his opinion if he takes in a session of the State Grange. A more intelligent, broad-minded set of men it would be hard to get together, and their able debates on the live issues of the hour show that they are abreast of the times in every way.

THE INDIAN OUTBREAK.

The Indian outbreak in Minnesota is another of those spasmodic efforts of an expiring race. Just as long as there are enough of the aborigines left to make up a band, it is certain the country will always be subject to revolts on their part, for there is nothing in the world more typically independent than these relics of the savage tribes who, but a generation or so ago, wandered at will over what now comprises the Western States. There are some species of wild animals that cannot be tamed in captivity, and whose young, though born under lock and key, will, after they pass the kitten stage, break out into all their native savagery. The American Indian seems to possess a great many of these characteristics, for, no matter what refining conditions of civilization he may be subjected to, he is always likely to get the frenzy of his race upon him, and set forth on the war path as of old.

As far as the present outbreak in Minnesota is concerned, it must in all fairness be admitted that the Indians have great cause for complaint, and that they were practically goaded into an outbreak. According to the stories sent out from the scene of action by the newspaper correspondents, the deputy marshals had been imposing on the Indians by taking them to spots far distant from their homes as witnesses and then, after their testimony had been given, abandoning them there. Furthermore, a plan is afoot to remove the tribesmen to another reservation, and when they put in a claim of $35,000 for the improvements made by them on their old stamping ground, dilatory action in Congress resulted in their appropriation bill being sidetracked, and finally turned down.

Those who know how quickly an Indian resents what he considers an unfair advantage taken of him can appreciate therefore how the mutterings that resulted from this treatment led to councils of war, and finally an outbreak. It is no use figuring on an Indian appealing to law when he is wronged; the only law he knows is that old natural one of revenge. Once well started and encouraged by the slightest temporary victory, all the native deviltry is aroused, and heedless of the crushing defeat that is inevitable sooner or later, he revels in the advantage of the present.

Already the lives of a number of brave American soldiers have been sacrificed, and doubtless many more will be lost before the braves are quelled, for the only way to subdue them now is to crush them. They have gone beyond the limits of reasoning and it will take the whirr of a Gatling gun and the repeated onslaughts of the American troopers before they sullenly lay down their arms and prepare to receive the punishment that they know awaits them. It is hard luck that these things have to be, but then the government is not entirely blameless, for there is always a time when these revolts can be checked bloodlessly, and it is the carelessness of the local authorities that allows it to pass.

Judging by the reports that are coming down from Vancouver Barracks, the boys of the Eighth are wishing themselves back at Camp Barrett. It is an outrage that they should be compelled to eat bad food and drink impure water, and now that the War Investigation Commission is in session is a good time to find out who is responsible for this disgraceful condition of affairs. When the present troops are mustered out, it is safe to say that Uncle Sam would have a hard time getting an army together in a hurry again. Those who have participated on this occasion would certainly be very clary about trying it a second time, in view of the shocking way they have been treated.

"It is false, it is corrupt, for any man to travel this State and say I am governed by any railroad corporation. If you elect me Governor I will give you an administration not dominated by any corporation.. But I will be governed by this principle: To do, and I will do impartial justice to my fellow man." (Extract from one of Gage's platform speeches.) That's the sort of stuff that counts, and the best of it is that the people now know that Henry Gage means every word he says.

The Socialists who are fighting for free speech will have to use the other kind of article with which to advance their case, that is, unless the attorneys who are to present their troubles to the Supreme Court are of a different brand to the average exponents of the law. The decree of the Supreme Court will be a mighty interesting document, for everyone is anxious to see how much latitude with their tongues is allowed them by the law of the land.

The members of the religious sect who believe hades is a place of perpetual ice are probably figuring on accommodating those individuals who won't do anything until "hell freezes over."

A big bedstead factory is about to be added to the industries of Oakland. This will give the paragraphers an opportunity to say that the demand for it is local on account of our alleged relations to San Francisco, but it must be admitted that if we are asleep it is like a weasel, with one eye open, for we have succeeded in landing an industry that every other city in the State would have been glad to welcome.

The good roads legislation that is to be attempted at Sacramento this winter should receive the unanimous support of the members. With concerted action in the various counties a system of State highways could be perfected that would add one more very noticeable attraction to California—one, too, that every person who was turning a business eye towards the State would appreciate.

A Santa Rosa aeronaut who has invented, and is perfecting, an airship, says he has high hopes of it. It is to be hoped that his ship will soar as high as his ambitions, but if he is a wise man he will give it its practical test by starting from the ground and trying to fly up. One airship inventor launched his from the top of a high building, and—well, he hasn't done anything since.

The new college yells of the Berkeley and Stanford freshman will make the noble red man look to his laurels. Hickety! Hickety! Wa-hoo! Wah! may not be very explicit to most people, but the students contrive to express their feelings by that medium all right.

Another $2,500,000 in gold is to be shipped here from Europe. If we keep that sort of thing up much longer those Old World countries will be forced to go on a silver basis, anyhow, for they won't have any other kind of money on hand.

Oakland will have a string on a good many things in the State after we get our twine factory going.

RUN DOWN BY A FAST TROLLEY CAR.

G. Stiegler Receives Injuries That Will Prove Fatal.

Ground Under the Fender of the Electric Car.

TOOK A CHANCE AND LOST.

Injured Man Was Driving a Wagon When the Accident Occurred.

G. Stiegler, a baker, residing at Elmhurst was fatally injured in a street car accident at Fitchburg at 11 o'clock this morning.

Stiegler had been around serving his customers and was about to return to his store when he was run down by a trolley car.

The baker was driving one horse attached to a covered wagon.

He came up the road by the side of the Fitchburg school just as car No. 13 hove in sight. The motorman saw that there was danger ahead and reversed the power.

Stiegler made an attempt to check his horse, but suddenly he changed his mind and tried to cross the track in front of the car.

The tracks were very slippery and the motorman could not bring his car to a standstill as soon as desired.

The car struck the baker's wagon squarely in the center and demolished it.

Stiegler was thrown to the ground and was caught under the fender. He was dragged quite a distance before the car was stopped.

The old man received injuries that will prove fatal. The motorman did all in his power to avoid the accident.

The injured baker was removed to his home at Elmhurst.

LEE'S CORPS IS ORDERED TO HAVANA.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

MAYOR THOMAS WILL VETO THE TAX LEVY.

Mayor W. R. Thomas has announced his intention of vetoing the tax levy ordinance.

He has sent notice to the members of the City Council to meet him in his office this evening to discuss the situation.

The Mayor has prepared a report on the ordinance fixing the tax levy at $1.21 which he will read to the members of the Council.

He proposes to ask the advocates of the $1.21 levy what is going to be done with the departments that threaten to close because of lack of funds.

The Mayor is of the opinion that more money should be allowed the High School, Free Library and street department. He is also of the opinion that three or four cents will be sufficient levy for the purposed new sewer. He says a box sewer can be built to last four or five years in order to meet the demands of the east side people.

All the points made by the Mayor will be explained to the Councilmen.

The Mayor says that he can not sign the tax levy ordinance in its present condition.

HERO OF THE FRONT SAVES ANOTHER LIFE.

Charles Emaly, watchman on the Webster street bridge, has again distinguished himself as a life saver. This time it was a Southern Pacific lineman whom the brave bridge tender rescued from a watery grave.

While engaged in removing the cable from the Webster street bridge, preparatory to placing the same on the Harrison street draw, J. Foster and J. McKean in some manner upset the boat in which they were working. Foster swam to shore none the worse for his experience aside from the wetting. With McKean it was different.

He is not much of a swimmer, and, weighted down as he was by his climbers and tools, it was all he could do to keep his head out of water. The tide carried him under the bridge, where Emaly was waiting for him. As he was passing Emaly caught him by the coat, holding him fast till assistance arrived, when the lineman was pulled out more dead than alive.

McKean says the bridge tender caught him just in time, as he was about exhausted and could have kept up but a few moments longer.

M'KINLEY PRODS THE SPANIARDS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President McKinley has cabled the United States military commission at Porto Rico that the island must be evacuated by the Spanish forces on or before October 18th and that Spanish commissioners be so informed. In case of the failure of the Spaniards to complete the evacuation by that date, the United States commissioners are directed to take possession and exercise all of the functions of government, and in case it is found to be impossible to secure transportation for the Spanish troops by October 18th they may be permitted to go into temporary quarters until transports can be secured to take them to Spain.

INCORRIGIBLES SENT TO A REFORM SCHOOL.

James Dellarocco and William Blodgett aged seventeen and eighteen years respectively, were today committed to the Whittier Reform School by Judge Ellsworth. The boys are burglars. They are to be confined until twenty-one years of age.

CONGREGATIONALISTS END THEIR LABORS.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

STOCKTON, Oct. 7.—The Congregational Convention, which has been in session here for the past week, finished its deliberations this morning and at noon adjourned sine die.

Very little business was transacted today. There was a half hour of devotion, and at 10 o'clock communion was celebrated. A few minor committees were appointed, and resolutions of thanks for courtesies extended by the citizens, the churches and the reporters were passed.

GRAND JURY IS TAKING EVIDENCE.

The Grand Jury this afternoon continued its investigation of the official conduct of Constable Glaze of Brooklyn township. Constable Harry A. Cramer and E. L. Edwards were called as witnesses. W. S. Pelouze, John T. Doyle and Constable Glaze also appeared before the censors.

Lamanda Park Highwayman.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Rachel Crank of Lamanda Park today identified Dan McCarty and Herbert Wright as the highwaymen who held her up at Lamanda Park last Saturday night. The pair were arrested for holding up a man named Fagsdale near the same place. Mrs. Crank pluckily got away from them by running her horse over one of the pair.

FIERCE RIOTS OF JAMAICA MAROONS.

They Attack the Police With Broken Bottles, Sticks and Stones.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 7.—Owing to the state of excitement prevailing, the maroon case, which was to have come up for trial before the District Court today, the main issue being whether the civil law statute of limitations can override imperial treaty rights, under which the maroons claim a disputed piece of ground, was postponed today until October 13, and twelve of the maroons suspected of instigating a disturbance have been arrested.

A great concourse of maroons and negroes gathered at Anotto Bay yesterday, but perfect quiet prevailed until 2 o'clock, when the arrests were made and a detachment of police marched on the maroon camp at Fifespen, the disputed land, seized the flag which was flying and evicted the occupants. A short-lived riot ensued, revolvers were fired and broken bottles, stones and sticks were freely used. Police Inspector Munsell and a few policemen were wounded, causing their temporary retreat.

The Inspector General then advanced with reinforcements and quelled the riot without firing a shot. The maroons retreated to their reservation, making threats, and reinforcements of 200 police were dispatched this morning to the support of the Inspector General, although it is not expected further serious trouble will result.

PECULIAR POISONS.

GENERATED IN THE HUMAN BODY.

The Result of Imperfect Digestion of Food.

Every living thing, plant or animal, contains within itself the germs of certain decay and death.

In the human body these germs of disease and death (called by scientists Ptomaines), are usually the result of imperfect digestion of food, the result of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The stomach, from abuse, weakness, does not promptly and thoroughly digest the food. The result is a heavy, sodden mass which ferments (the first process of decay) poisoning the blood making it thin, weak, and lacking in red corpuscles; poisoning the brain, causing headaches and pain in the eyes.

Bad digestion irritates the heart, causing palpitation and finally bringing on disease of this very important organ.

Poor digestion poisons the kidneys, causing Bright's disease and diabetes.

And this is so because every organ, every nerve depends upon the stomach alone for nourishment and renewal, and weak digestion shows itself not only in loss of appetite and flesh, but in weak nerves and muddy complexion.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly, because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and peptogenic products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion is to take after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant, harmless form, all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strong nerves, a bright eye and clear complexion, because all these result only from wholesome food well digested.

Nearly all druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents full sized packages or by mail by enclosing price to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., but ask your druggist first.

An Amendment to "Only a Shirt"

"The amendment takes precedence of the original motion"
—CUSHING

When in the hands of seamstresses who "are entirely great,"
The white shirt is a modern blessing in disguise;
But since Hood composed his famous song, we think it's rather late
To punctuate a shirt with some dim poet's soulful sighs!

But now the edict has gone forth that shirt-men must attune
Their linen threads to music to immortalize their shirt,
So we ask the public's pardon if we drop into a rune,
And some fac's about our own creations modestly assert!

Now, leaving out the usual invocation to the muse,
We open up by stating that the simple wearing test
Is the proof to be considered when a shirt you care to use,
And if that's so then Keller and Fitzgerald's shirts are best!

And neither songs of troubadours, nor ads of wondrous size,
May change the truth of what we feel compelled to say in rhyme;
If the town were in convention, there would be a flood of ayes
To certify that all our shirts are leaders every time!

So with these few amendments to the shoppish song of fame
That knocked the public endwise just a few sad days ago,
We endorse the shirt description, just suggesting that the name
Should be Keller & Fitzgerald, and the store two blocks below!

PHYSICIAN WANTS HIS MONEY.

Dr. Joseph E. Eastman of Berkeley is today prosecuting his suit against W. A. Holtum to recover a large sum of money alleged to be due for medical services. The morning was spent in impaneling a jury.

The jurors selected to try the case are H. P. Dunning, S. A. Gladston, H. Hermanson, A. Schroyer, H. L. Fedderson, A. H. Schow, H. Morrison, S. Winsor, H. E. Lang, H. P. Jeosen, G. L. Broadwater and J. M. Page.

This afternoon Drs. F. R. Woolsey and H. M. Rowell took the stand and testified for plaintiff. They averred that the operation which Dr. Eastman performed was one of the most delicate known to surgery.

LEGAL NOTES FROM THE SUPERIOR COURT.

The Continental Building and Loan Association has brought suit in foreclosure against Edgar D. Parker. The amount involved is $1,000.

Request has been filed for the dismissal of the suit of The Union Savings Bank against Patrick Seegrue.

Monday, October 17th has been set by Judge Greene as the time for hearing the motion for a new trial in the case of A. C. Harmand against the City of San Leandro.

Queer Eaters.

It was of course a Frenchman, Mr. Bonjour (Mr. Goodday), who left his chop and tomato sauce to hang himself, and, on being cut down by the police, went back and finished his meal. That happened only the other day. It was decidedly French; probably a man of no other nation could have accomplished it. Mr. Bonjour's excuse for his rash deed was that he was lonesome, his wife having hanged herself a year before because of the monotony of life.

There has been recently an unusually active trade in old horses from England to Germany. Owing to the fact that some of the animals have been cruelly treated in transit, an investigation has been begun. There is reason to believe that these old horses are used to make German sausages, but none of them has yet been traced from the sausage mill to the dining table. English restaurants which sell "sausages an' mashed for 4 pence," are not much affected by the agitation, however.

A famous golf player of England is proud of the fact that the game had its origin in Scotland, his native country. One day he had a large party of friends at the house to dine, and on meeting two Scottish countrymen on the road he asked them to take dinner in the servants' hall. He sent out to them plenty of champagne, and went after a time to see how the "gillies" were getting on. He found them depressed.

"Oh!" they replied, "we're getting on fine, but we're vera fateeg—git wi' thae mineral waters."

Some of the vegetarians have put forward the name of Sir Henry Thompson, the London specialist, as a supporter of their theories of diet. Sir Henry denies the soft impeachment with a good deal of emphasis, and says the alleged "vegetarians" are not at all what they pretend to be, as they all consume milk, eggs, and other distinctly animal products. — Chicago Chronicle.

Curious Italian Cigars.

A curious cigar seen in the Italian quarter of the city, where it is made and sold, is about 7½ inches in length and very slender, being not much bigger around than an all tobacco cigarette, and almost uniform in size for the greater part of its length. At the end that is placed in the mouth this cigar is made around a piece of straw an inch and a half in length, which projects about a quarter of an inch clear of the tobacco. When the cigar is made, a broom splint long enough to reach almost to the lighting end of the cigar is run through the straw, and the cigar is made around that. The broom splint is cut long enough so that a quarter or half an inch of it projects clear of the straw mouthpiece.

When the cigar is to be smoked, the broom splint is withdrawn. The opening through where the splint was makes the cigar draw freely, and the section of straw at the slender end keeps the cigar open there. These cigars, made of strong, dark tobacco, are sold at retail for a cent each.—New York Sun.

She Runs the Hotel.

Paris is talking with much interest of the venture of the Vicomtesse de Janze, who has started to add to her income by opening her magnificent Hotel Janze to the public at 2 francs a head. The house is one of the loveliest in the Champs Elysees quarter. It dates back from the eighteenth century, and every room can be considered a page of history. Portraits of the beauties are one of the specialties of the staircase, which is very fine. The salle a manger and the three salons are exquisitely decorated and full of art treasures and relics of such celebrities as Marie Antoinette and Josephine.—Exchange.

HEROES WHO FELL FIGHTING THE INDIANS.

List of Our Losses in Wednesday's Battle.

The Red Men in Congress at Omaha Excited Over the News.

THE OPINION OF OWL FACE MAN.

"White Man Much Mean, But Injun Mean, Too, Cause Not Treated Right."

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The Tribune's staff correspondent at Walker, Minn., en route to the scene of battle between Company E, Third Infantry, under command of General Bacon and the Pillager Indians on Bear Island, says:

The steamer Flora has arrived here, bringing in the killed and wounded. Following is a complete list of those killed and wounded in Wednesday's engagement. The Killed:

Officers—

MAJOR MELVILLE WILKINSON,
SERGEANT WILLIAM BUTLER.

Privates—

EDWARD LOWE,
JOHN OLMSTEAD,
JOHN S. WALLENSTOCKER,
ALFRED ZEBUT.

The wounded:

E. E. Antonell, shot in leg; Sergeant Levy Ayers, shot in neck; Richard Boucher, shot through the shoulder; Edward Brown, shot in face; John Daily, shot in thigh; Charles Francis; Private Godfrey, shot through the shoulder; Charles Jensen; Albert Schuyler; Charles Turner, shot through the shoulder; George Wicker, shot in leg.

Wounded civilians—Edward Harris, City Marshal of Walker; Joseph Oscar, pilot of steamer Jennie; T. J. Sheehan, Deputy United States Marshal; Tinker, Indian inspector; Henry Watters, engineer of tug Jennie.

General Bacon is unhurt and all newspaper correspondents have been accounted for and are uninjured, although they were at one time under the same heavy fire which chinned the ranks of the troops.

Lieutenant-Colonel Harbach says that General Bacon will come into Walker from Bear Island today and a council will then be held at which it will be decided what the next move in the campaign will be.

General Bacon sent word that the Indians have scattered from his front and taken refuge in the surrounding forest. Lieutenant-Colonel Harbach expects part of the reinforcements at least will be landed on Bear Island at 6 o'clock this morning.

Two hundred and seven picked men from the Fighting Third Infantry at Fort Snelling, in command of Lieutenant-Colonel Harbach, arrived at Walker at 6 o'clock this evening, coming by special and fast train from the post at St. Paul. Each soldier carried his Krag-Jorgensen and a hundred rounds of ammunition and rations for five days, and an ample reserve supply of 9000 rounds of ammunition was brought along. Another Gatling gun was part of the expedition.

MORE THAN ONE HERO.

WALKER, Minn., Oct. 7.—The battle of Leech Lake has developed more than one hero.

General Bacon, Major Wilkinson, Lieutenant Ross, Surgeon Harris, Hospital Steward Burkhart, Sergeant Butler, Frank Briggs and Colonel Sheehan are all deserving of medals of honor, the three former for the gallant manner in which they led the troops; the fourth for his inattention to his wounds when bullets were flying about his head and his apparent indifference to them; the fifth for volunteering to carry messages across the firing line from Lieutenant Ross to General Bacon and losing his life in an effort to rejoin his men, and the sixth for bravery displayed on several occasions.

Briggs is a barber of Walker, and was sworn in as a Deputy Sheriff because he wanted to accompany the troops. When the Indian sharpshooters were firing upon everyone who showed above the ground, Briggs went to the beach and carried supplies to the blockhouse. He also volunteered to go to the Flora in a canoe and was allowed to do so, by General Bacon, who remarked as he gave his consent: "You have lots of nerve, young man, and are taking your life in your hands."

Colonel Sheehan's gallantry is remarkable, because the Colonel was there, not in a military capacity, but as a Deputy Marshal, and his work had been accomplished. He and Briggs will be mentioned in General Bacon's official report and Steward Burkhart will be recommended for a medal of honor.

OTHER INDIANS EXCITED.

OMAHA, Oct. 7.—The six hundred red men of the Indian Congress now assembled in Omaha are much interested in the reports of fighting among the Minnesota Indians. Some braves at the Exposition grounds are considerably excited over the situation. The manner in which the news was circulated among the Indians is a mystery, even to Captain Mercer, who has charge of the camp.

Early in the morning a number of the chiefs came to Mercer and asked him about the "heap big fight" up north. They listened in silence to the statements of the Captain. There are fifteen Chippewas in camp. They seemed greatly interested and talked among themselves in an excited manner. Their chief, Owl Face Man, was asked by Captain Mercer what he thought of the fighting. He grunted with much energy and said:

"White man much mean, but Injuns mean too, cause not treated right. Will be heap big fight before war over, cause Injuns have heap good guns."

Owl Face Man is not a head chief. He is in charge of his men here and seems intelligent. He said his men first heard of the fighting from a half-breed who read of it in the morning papers. Other Indians on the grounds, especially those Apaches and Sioux from the West who know something of the fighting qualities and numbers of United States troops, ridicule the Chippewas for going to war.

Geronimo, the famous Apache chief, who has been a prisoner since being captured by General Crook after his desperate fighting in the South, was an interested listener to what Captain Mercer said. When he found the fighting was confined to a small tribe, away north of any territory he knew aught of, he had nothing more to say.

When asked by Captain Mercer if he would like to fight, the old warrior's eyes flashed, but he merely grunted with disgust.

HOW THE TROUBLE AROSE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The Tribune says: Some facts in connection with the present trouble with the Pillager Indians at Leech Lake not generally known are as follows:

A year ago a white man was arrested for selling liquor to the Indians. The United States Marshals arrested Min-Jon-Dah, a Pillager Indian of Bear Island, who some years ago gained considerable notoriety by killing Chief Hole-in-the-Day and is reported to be a bad and insolent Indian, having killed seven of his tribe in addition to Chief Hole-in-the-Day and is remarkable for his cunning and great influence with the balance of his tribe. He is a large and powerfully built Indian of the dark and greasy type. He still wears the old aboriginal blanket of his forefathers, and was never known to live in any abode but a tepee or small tent of birch bark. The United States Marshal arrested him as a witness against the white man for selling whisky to the Indians and took him to Duluth, where the trial was held, promising him transportation from Walker to Duluth and return, with all expenses. When the trial was over Min-Jon-Dah, it is said, had to walk from Duluth to Walker, a distance of 190 miles without money or food. He swore before his tribe that he would never recognize a warrant or papers of any kind served by the United States Marshals.

When the fall term of court sat at Duluth, Min-Jon-Dah and another buck of his tribe were wanted at Duluth to give testimony in another case similar to that of last fall. The Marshals came and arrested the two Indians and put them in jail.

During their incarceration there was intense excitement among the Indians and many threats of a rescue were freely indulged in by the Indians.

From the few details that have leaked

Finally twenty of the bucks, during the night of September 8, made a raid on the jail at Walker, Minn., and released the two prisoners. The two Indians made their escape to Bear Island, and have been ever since agitating the Indians to rebellion and resistance of the Government officials, and this, coupled with the alleged pine timber injustices, has resulted in the present trouble.

SKETCH OF GENERAL BACON.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—General John M. Bacon, now intrenched in the Indian country, is in command of the military Departments of the Lakes and the Dakotas. He was born in Kentucky in 1844. He was appointed Second Lieutenant in the Fourth Kentucky volunteers on September 22, 1862. He was Colonel and Aide-de-Camp to the commanding general from January 1, 1871, to February 8, 1884. Since the war with Spain began Colonel Bacon was promoted to be Brigadier-General of volunteers. His headquarters are in St. Paul.

Lieutenant-Colonel Abraham A. Harbach, who accompanied reinforcements, was born in Pittsburg, Pa., in 1841. He was appointed sergeant in the First Iowa regiment from the ranks in 1861. For gallant and meritorious conduct at the battle of Gettysburg he was appointed Captain, and his subsequent advancements have been obtained through soldierly conduct.

LADY BULLER WILL NOT PAY TAXES.

Lady Yarde-Buller has taken an interest in Oakland's tax levy, to the extent that she has notified the Mayor that she will not pay a cent of taxes this year. Her characteristic letter to Mayor Thomas follows:

"To Mayor Thomas—Dear Sir: It is not my want of sympathy with the wants of Oakland's citizens, but not one foot or one inch of my tide lands will I surrender. The proposed park may be paid for by the Edson Adams estate and the Von Loben Sells, De Fremery's or the Southern Pacific. I can see no reason why I should rob myself and my two sons—for whose benefit? Yours or your Councilmen? I am not to be bought or sold. Right is right; wrong is wrong; and you and your Councilmen do not own the Supreme Court. Yours truly,

"M. L. K. YARDE-BULLER.

"I shall not pay one cent in taxes this year.

"M. L. K. YARDE-BULLER."

AN APPEAL FOR THE FREE LIBRARY.

The Oakland students of the State University have petitioned the Mayor to veto the tax levy ordinance. They claim it would result disastrously to the free library, and that is why they have taken an interest in the matter. The petition is signed by 115 students, and is as follows:

"Whereas, the tax levy passed by Oakland's Council on the 3d of October, 1898, will necessitate the closing of the Free Library in the morning and the evening; and

"Whereas, we, the undersigned students in the University of California, residing in Oakland, have found the library of the greatest utility to us in the pursuit of our studies; and

"Whereas, the closing of the library during the morning and evening will greatly handicap us in our University work;

"We, therefore, appeal to you as Mayor of Oakland to veto the above-mentioned tax levy which aims so crushing a blow, in general, at our educational institutions, and in particular at University students living in Oakland."

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS COMMITTEE MEETING.

California Commandery to Be the First to Reach Pittsburg.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 7.—The first business done in connection with the meeting of the Grand Encampment Knights Templars of the United States was the meeting of the committees on jurisprudence and finance at the Monongahela House this afternoon.

California Commandery No. 1, the first commandery to reach here, will arrive tomorrow evening about 10 o'clock.

YOUTHS SENT TO PRESTON SCHOOL

Henry Simons and Robert Ash, the youthful candidates for the Reform School, did not pass muster at Mare Island. In consequence, Judge Ogden today committed them to the Preston School of Industry.

Judge Ogden stated that under the statute he doubted whether he is vested with authority to commit the boys either to Ione or Preston. However, he followed the regular order.

STATE GRANGE IS DOING GOOD WORK

Farmers Discuss Plans That Will Benefit the Producers.

The twenty-sixth annual session of the State Grange, now being held in this city, was scheduled to close this evening, but owing to the large amount of business on hand to be transacted, it is probable that its labors will be continued on Saturday.

The session this morning was opened at 10 o'clock by Worthy Master Greer.

After the preliminary ceremonies were gone through, the matter of selecting a place to hold the session next year was taken up. Several places were suggested, but the final decision was for Napa.

A communication from P. M. Fisher, principal of the Central Grammar School, inviting the delegates to visit the school was read and accepted.

The filling of vacancies on the different committees was then taken up. Cyrus Jones was elected to succeed himself as a member of the executive committee. This is the only standing committee of the Grange. The other committees are chosen each year and are dismissed as soon as the session is over. The executive committee is now composed of Worthy Master W. W. Greer, Cyrus Jones, H. F. Blohm, and George Loucks.

J. C. Steele of Pescadero was chosen assistant steward.

The committee to which were referred the resolutions on business co-operation offered by G. W. Worthen, submitted the following:

"We recommend that the paper on co-operation in buying and selling fruit and other produce in home and foreign markets by the Worthy Overseer, Brother G. W. Worthen, be published in the Journal of Proceedings.

"We also recommend that a committee of five, as suggested by the Worthy Overseer, be appointed by the Worthy Master, whose duty it will be to correspond with the different granges and find out some of the conditions that exist in the locality where they are situated, and we further recommend that they gather all information from any source to assist them in formulating a plan that could be put into successful operation."

The report of the committee was adopted. The committee to correspond with the different Granges has not yet been appointed by Mr. Greer.

The balance of the morning session was taken up by an address by Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange.

The subject of Mr. Walker's address was "Public Roads." He spoke of the convenience and advantages which good roads brought to the farmer. He told how the disadvantages of submitting to railroad conditions might be overcome to a great extent by having good highways, which would bring the country and city closer together. He said that such conveniences were becoming a stronger necessity to the welfare of the farmer every day.

"The way to accomplish this end," continued Mr. Walker, "is by organized effort. A great deal could be done by organization where individuals could accomplish nothing."

He favored the united action of the State and local Granges in the matter. That each Grange appoint a committee to undertake the supervision of improving its local roads.

This afternoon the installation of the officers elected in the morning took place, besides the regular business pertaining to the Grange.

This evening memorial services will be held in respect to a departed sister and brother who died during the last year. They are Rosella Cox of Watsonville and H. W. Johnson of Sacramento.

The features of yesterday afternoon's session were addresses by Horticultural Commissioner A. D. Pryal and David Lubin.

Mr. Pryal spoke at some length upon insects which were destroying the fruits in the State and the best methods of eradicating them.

Mr. Lubin expounded his theory about taxing exports so that when they reached Liverpool the price would be so raised that the retroactive effect would be to raise the price of the product remaining in this country, thus benefiting the American producer.

EVENING SESSION.

The members of the State Grange turned out in force last evening to attend one of the most impressive and entertaining affairs which is given by the order. It was the celebration of the feast of Flora and Pomona which takes place every year in honor of the conferring of the fifth and sixth degrees of the Grange.

The delegates first convened at Odd Fellows Hall where the ceremonies of conferring the fifth and sixth degrees were observed.

At 10 o'clock after the degrees had been conferred, the delegates formed in a line of march to proceed to Elite Hall where the feast was to be celebrated. The procession was formed in order of seniority of degrees. The members of the fourth degree were placed in front, those of the fifth came second and those of the sixth in the rear.

In this order the procession marched to the hall. It was led by Chief Steward J. D. Cornell. He carried a pruning hook adorned with flowers. Mrs. Gould, assistant steward, carried a shepherd's crook also adorned with flowers.

When the procession reached the hall the couples were divided, making a double line through which a counter march was executed, from the rear, the senior members marching into the hall first. Inside the hall the marching was continued till all were arranged in lines before the tables on which the feast was spread.

The hall was nicely arranged with table on which an abundance of different kinds of fruit from all parts of the State were temptingly spread. The card of each grower accompanied his donation to the feast.

The fruits displayed were of the finest that are produced in California. Many of the exhibits were especially noticeable for the large size and delicious flavor of the fruit. Mrs. H. R. Bornette had on exhibition twelve cases of sun-dried fruits which she will donate to the Board of Trade of this city.

Since it was a feast of Flora as well as of Pomona, many varieties of California flowers were also artistically arranged on the tables, giving a very beautiful effect to the whole.

Ceres was represented by numerous sheaves of grain combined with the flowers and fruit, making a pretty effect.

On the stage were seven young ladies representing the three goddesses, Flora, Pomona, and Ceres, with their courts. Flora was represented by Miss Ada Ross, with Miss Jennie Sanders and Miss Cora Beecher as attendants. Pomona was represented by Miss Olga Christenson, attended by Miss Adeline Tull. Miss Olive Allen, attended by Mrs. M. J. Houx, took the part of Ceres, each young lady representing a goddess, carried a staff with a symbols of the three Grecian deities.

M. D. Hopkins, the gate keeper of the order carried a staff with the figure of an owl as the insignia of his office.

The feast was inaugurated by a short prayer by Worthy Chaplain Mrs. A. T. Davey.

The evening entertainment was concluded by a dance.

The arrangements for the affair were in the hands of H. F. Blohm, chairman of the feast committee. The programme was under the direction of the executive committee, consisting of W. W. Greer, Worthy Master, and Cyrus Jones, G. P. Loucks and H. F. Blohm.

Among the grangers who contributed fruits to the feast were: H. F. Blohm, Watsonville; R. O. Baldwin, Danville; Charles Wood, Danville; F. T. Coulter, Santa Rosa; G. H. Rostren, Martinez; G. C. Newell, Martinez; H. C. Rapp, Oakland; G. W. Worthen, San Jose; J. Bettinger, Campbell; E. D. Williams, Oakland; D. M. Winans, Petaluma; M. B. Mac, Santa Rosa; W. W. Greer, Sacramento; S. F. Coulter, Santa Rosa; C. H. McCracken, San Jose; G. W. Tarleton, San Jose; J. Bettinger, San Jose; D. H. Coates, San Jose; S. F. Coulter, Santa Rosa; John Tuohy, Tulare; A. R. Woodhams, Santa Clara; Peter Williams, J. Hollister, Haywards; L. Frank, Oakland; Mrs. O. E. Boretle and others.

There were sixteen crates of grapes from the United States experimental station at Tulare.

A large amount of fruit left over from the feast will be donated to the Childrens' Home at Temescal.

FLOODS REPORTED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE CITY.

Clogged Culverts Cause Many Flooded Cellars.

Today's Rain Caught the Street Department Unprepared.

MR. MILLER HAS A BUSY DAY.

A Large Force of Men Are at Work Remedying the Reported Difficulties.

Today's storm created havoc with the sewers, street crossings and culverts all over the city. The work of cleaning the streets and gutters was not commenced soon enough to get them in condition to carry off the rain water, and in some sections basements are flooded, sidewalks are impassable and sewers are caved.

"This is always the case after the first heavy rain," said Mr. Miller. "It would not have been quite so bad, however, if we could have put men to work sooner cleaning the streets. The accumulated debris that should have been removed from the gutters and carted away, is washed into the culverts and chokes them up in a short time."

All difficulties reported have received prompt attention and a large force of men have been kept at work all day repairing damages and cleaning the gutters and culverts.

The culvert at Eighth street and Broadway choked with the result that a lake formed on the north side of Eighth street between Broadway and Franklin. The water backed up over the sidewalks and poured into the cellars through the gratings and iron doors.

There is a similar condition at Seventh and Webster streets and First and Webster streets.

Residents in the vicinity of Twenty-second and Grove streets threaten to travel in boats. The water has backed up onto the sidewalks to a depth of several inches, and in some cases the people cannot get in or out of their homes without wading knee-deep in slush and water.

From Thirteenth avenue and East Seventeenth street come the report that the sewer had caved in and a big portion of the street was being washed away.

The culvert on East Sixteenth street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues refused to allow the rain water to pass through it, and a respectable sized lake formed on the street opposite the Garfield school. The water raised over the sidewalks and formed an outlet through the school yard.

Numerous minor complaints were also filed with the street department.

The rain necessitated the temporary retirement of the entire street cleaning force. The sewer flushers have more work than they can attend to.

The carpenter gang which was at work constructing cross-walks and culverts on Prospect street were driven in out of the wet. The mechanics were put to work in the afternoon laying new flooring in the city wharf warehouses.

Superintendent Miller expresses the opinion that all the culverts will be in working order before night, and that there will be no further trouble.

YELLOW FEVER SPREADING FAST.

Immune Physicians For the Camps Are Hard to Find.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 7.—Owing to the rapid spread of the yellow fever in Mississippi and the number of localities affected, the State Board is having some trouble finding immune physicians to put in charge of the camps. Numerous suspicious cases continue to be reported from various parts of the State.

Because of the fever in the Orphan Asylum, a move is on foot to have the children sent to St. Lou's to be cared for until cold weather comes.

SIXTH WARD CLUB OPENS THE CAMPAIGN

Candidates Welcomed by Members of the Organization.

Republicans Are Urged to Stand by the Entire Ticket.

THE NOMINEES MAKE SPEECHES.

Fine Showing Made by the Young Men Who Will Work For Party Success.

The Sixth Ward Republican Club held a rousing meeting last evening. Becker's Hall was packed, and the manner in which the candidates were received, and the cheers which greeted the mention of President McKinley's name, showed conclusively that this club is full of workers for their party's cause.

After the meeting had been called to order by Eugene Lynch, Treasurer Dan Doody announced that he had received a number of donations from club members. He also stated that no donations would be received from candidates, as the club intended to pay its own expenses during the campaign.

JAMES B. BARBER.

James B. Barber, candidate for re-election to the office of Tax Collector, was the first speaker of the evening. He explained that the duties of his office did not require that he be an orator, and unfortunately he was not one. He paid a nice compliment to Frank Barnett, the mention of whose name was a signal for applause. After asking the support of the club, the speaker gave way to S. D. Waterman, candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Schools.

S. D. WATERMAN.

Mr. Waterman spoke at some length about the Sixth amendment, asking all to oppose it, and support the entire Republican ticket.

The speaker said that he was a Republican, had been a soldier in the civil war and hoped to be a public official.

FRANK C. JORDAN.

In introducing Frank C. Jordan, President Lynch referred to him as the fearless, fighting County Clerk. Jordan referred to S. D. Waterman as being a new man in politics. He said there was no telling where he would stop when he once got started. After telling a story in illustration he spoke of Will H. Church, Joseph Kelley and Frank Leavitt and Oscar Rogers.

In speaking for himself, he said they all knew his record, and he wanted their support, as this would be the last time he would take any active part in politics.

FRANK LEAVITT.

Frank W. Leavitt was introduced as the next State Senator. Speaking of the members of the Sixth Ward Club, he said: "I am not afraid of what the boys of the Sixth ward will do. I know they will stand together and cast a good big vote for the straight ticket.

"Permit me to give the lie to a statement which appeared in the Examiner recently, to the effect that the Legislative candidates of this county are pledged to support Mike De Young for the United States Senate.

"I am absolutely unpledged, and know that Mr. Kelley is in the same boat. If elected I shall do the same as I did last year, vote for the best man. (Great applause.)

"Now in regard to the head of our ticket, I wish to say that Henry T. Gage will make the best Governor this State has ever had, and we want to elect him by a large majority.

"I want you to send Joe Kelley to the Assembly, as I know he is a good man, and together we can work for this district and accomplish something."

JOSEPH KELLEY.

"We will now hear from our next Assemblyman, Joseph Kelley," said President Lynch, which announcement called forth prolonged cheers.

Mr. Kelley then made a short address, saying in part: "I do not care to make a speech, as I am a business man and not a speechmaker. I hope to see the members of this club taking an active interest in the campaign by appearing in street parades, and when the day of election comes around, put in their votes for the straight Republican ticket. If elected I shall endeavor to make as good a record as my predecessor."

Speeches were also made by Mortimer Smith, James Quinn, John W. Stetson, S. W. Getchell, Frank Barnett, Charles L. Ingler, W. D. Powers, J. W. Osborne, J. Cal Ewing, W. S. O'Brien, M. Isaacs, Dr. Mehrmann and others.

Upon motion of Treasurer Dan Doody a vote of thanks was extended Tax Collector James B. Barber for the courtesies extended the club and the recognition he had given it by the appointment of Frank Barnett as a deputy.

The meeting then adjourned.

TWO PERFORMANCES FOR ONE TICKET.

License Inspector Maloon promises to make trouble for Wallace's circus when it visits Oakland, if the management carries out its plan to avoid paying a license for two performances. The circus people expressed the intention of making the afternoon and evening performances a continuous show, by the introduction during the usual intermission of some acts warranted to drive the crowd away. By this means the circus management claims it would only have to take out a license for one performance instead of two.

Mr. Maloon states if this plan is carried out he will insist that the management make no effort to put out the people who attend in the afternoon, after the regular programme is carried out. If such an attempt is made he will insist upon the payment of an additional license for the evening show.

State of California.
Executive Department,
Sacramento, July 30, 1898.

Whereas, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-second session, beginning on the fourth day of January, A. D. 1897, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following described amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.
(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section eighteen of article eleven of the Constitution, in relation to revenue and taxation, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 18. No county, city, town, township, board of education or school district shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for it for such year, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before, or at the time of incurring such indebtedness, provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also provision to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same; provided, however, that the city and county of San Francisco may at any time pay the unpaid claims with interest thereon for materials furnished to and work done for said city and county during the forty-third and forty-fourth fiscal years, out of the income and revenue of any succeeding year or years; provided, that any and all claims for making, repairing, altering, or for any work done upon or for any material furnished for any street, lane, alley, court, place or sidewalk, or for the construction of any sewer or sewers in said city or county are hereby excepted from the provisions of this section; and in determining any claim permitted to be paid by this section, no statute of limitations shall apply in any manner; and provided further, that the city of Vallejo, in Solano county, may pay its existing indebtedness incurred in the construction of its water-works, whenever two-thirds of the electors thereof voting at an election held for that purpose, shall so decide. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision, with the exception hereinbefore recited, shall be void.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.
(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 10.)

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, by adding a new section, to be known and designated as section seven and one-half, article eleven thereof, providing for the framing, by the inhabitants of counties, of local county government acts for their own government. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 7½. The inhabitants of any county may frame a county government act for their own government, relating to the matters hereinafter specified, and consistent with, and subject to, the Constitution and laws of this State, by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who have been, for at least five years, qualified electors of such county, to be elected by the qualified electors of such county, at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be, within ninety days after such election, to prepare and propose a county government act for such county, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of such board, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy thereof to the Board of Supervisors or other legislative body of such county, and the other copy to be sent to the Recorder of deeds of the county. Such proposed county government act shall then be published in two papers of general circulation in such county, or if there be not two such papers, then in one only, for at least twenty days, and within not less than thirty days after such publication it shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such county, at a general or special election, and if a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon shall ratify the same, it shall thereafter be submitted to the Legislature for its rejection or approval, as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment, and if approved by a majority of the members elected to each house, it shall be the county government act of such county, and shall in such case become the organic law thereof and supersede any existing county government act, and all amendments thereof, and all special laws inconsistent with such county government act.

A copy of such county government act, certified by the President of the Board of Supervisors or other legislative body of such county, and authenticated by the seal of such county, setting forth the submission of such county government act to the electors and its ratification by them, shall be made in duplicate and deposited, one in the office of the Secretary of State, the other, after being recorded in the office of the Recorder of deeds in the county, among the archives of the county.

All courts shall take judicial notice thereof. The county government act so ratified may be amended, at intervals of not less than two years, by proposals therefor, submitted by the legislative authority of the county, to the qualified electors thereof, at a general or special election held at least forty days after the publication of such proposals for twenty days in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, and ratified by at least three-fifths of the qualified electors voting thereon, and approved by the Legislature as herein provided for the approval of the county government act. In submitting any such county government act, any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

It shall be competent in all county government acts framed under the authority given by this section, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several township and county officers, other than Judges of the Superior Court, shall be elected and appointed; for their compensation; for the number of such officers, for the consolidation or segregation of offices, for the number of deputies that each officer shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies, for the manner in which, the time in which, and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attaches; also, to prescribe the manner and method by which all elections by the people shall be conducted; and may in addition determine the tests and conditions upon which electors, political parties and organizations may participate in any primary election.

Whenever any county has, in the manner and method herein pointed out adopted any county government act, and the Legislature as aforesaid, the directions of sections four and five of this article providing for the uniformity of system of county governments throughout the State, and likewise providing for the election and appointment of officers, and the regulation of their compensation, shall not apply. Said county government act shall, as to any of the matters hereinabove provided for and declared by such county government act, not be subject to any law or amendment enacted by the Legislature, except by amendment first submitted to the electors and ratified in the manner hereinabove set forth.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.
(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41.)

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, by adding a new section, to be known and designated as section five and one-half, article six, thereby providing for the organization of a court, to be known as the Court of Claims. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 5½. The Court of Claims shall consist of any three Judges of the Superior Court, who may be requested by the Governor to hold court at the regular terms thereof. The Court of Claims shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine all claims of every kind and character against the State, under such laws as may be passed by the Legislature, and its judgment thereon shall be final. The terms of the Court of Claims shall be held as follows:

In the city of Los Angeles, commencing on the second Monday of March;

In the city and county of San Francisco, commencing on the second Monday in July, and

In the city of Sacramento, commencing on the second Monday of November of each year.

The Judges holding such term of court shall receive no extra compensation therefor, but shall receive their actual expenses, to be paid out of the general fund of the State Treasury. The Legislature shall enact all laws necessary to organize such court, to provide the procedure thereof and to carry out the provisions of this section.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.
(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, amending article eleven, by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section number five and one-half, relating to consolidated city and county governments. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 5½. The provisions of section four and five of this article shall not, nor shall any legislation passed pursuant thereto, apply to any consolidated city and county government, now existing or hereafter formed, which shall have become, or shall become, organized under section seven, or secure a charter under section eight of this article.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.
(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 36.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment of section fifteen and section sixteen of article five of the Constitution of the State of California, by which it is proposed to amend said sections to read as follows:

Section 15. A Lieutenant Governor shall be elected at the same time and place and in the same manner as the Governor, and his term of office and his qualifications shall be the same. He shall be President of the Senate, but shall only have a casting vote therein.

Section 16. In case of the impeachment of the Governor, or his removal from office, death, inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office, resignation or absence from the State, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease. And should the Lieutenant Governor be impeached, displaced, resign, die or become incapable of performing the duties of his office, or be absent from the State, the President pro tempore of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy in the office of Governor shall be filled at the next general election when members of the Legislature shall be chosen, or until such disability of the Lieutenant Governor shall cease. In case of a vacancy in the office of Governor for any of the reasons above named, and neither the Lieutenant Governor nor the President pro tempore of the Senate shall succeed to the powers and duties of Governor, then the powers and duties of such office shall devolve upon the Speaker of the Assembly, until the office of Governor shall be filled at such general election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.
(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 38.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section six, article nine of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to grammar schools, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 6. The public school system shall include primary and grammar schools, and such High schools, evening schools, Normal schools and technical schools as may be established by the Legislature or by municipal or district authority, but the entire revenue derived from the State school fund, and the State school tax, shall be applied exclusively to the support of primary and grammar schools. Grammar schools shall include schools organized in a school district, or union of school districts, having more than one thousand inhabitants, in which a course of study shall be taught which will prepare pupils to enter the agricultural, mining or scientific department of the University of California.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVEN.
(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 24.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section two of article four of the Constitution, in relation to sessions of the Legislature, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 2. The sessions of the Legislature shall commence at twelve o'clock meridian on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election of its members, and shall be biennial unless the Governor shall in the interim convene the Legislature by proclamation. The Legislature shall then remain in session for twenty-five days, after which it must adjourn to some date not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the time of adjournment. If the two houses fail to agree upon a time at which they will resume their session, the Governor shall, by proclamation, fix a date for such reconvening, which shall be within the limits above prescribed. Upon re-assembling, the Legislature shall complete its session. No pay shall be allowed to members for a longer period than seventy-five days, and no bill shall be introduced in either house, except at the first twenty-five days of the session, without the consent of three fourths of the members thereof.

GENERAL RAINS FOR CALIFORNIA.

Fruit Men Given Warning and Little Damage Expected.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—It commenced raining here shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The precipitation was very heavy and there is no indication of a cessation. The Weather Bureau predicts general showers all over the State for today and tomorrow.

Reports from the interior indicate that most of the fruit crop has been gathered, though in some localities the late grapes are still on the vines. Fruit dryers have been prepared for a siege by information issued by the Department of Agriculture, so it is assured that the damage by the present storm will be comparatively light.

SPAIN MUST GIVE UP THE PHILIPPINES.

Such Are Said to Be the Instructions of Our Commissioners.

The Spanish Hoped to Sell the Islands For a Fat Sum.

WANT US TO PAY THEIR DEBTS.

Gen. Merritt Urges His Colleagues to Insist on the Surrender of the Archipelago.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Herald from Paris says:

Although the peace commissioners themselves profess perfect satisfaction with matters as far as they have progressed, a certain amount of inquietude is plainly discernible on the Spanish side. This appears to be undoubtedly due to the firmness of the Americans.

Report has it that the United States intends to solve the Philippine difficulty by insisting upon the cession of the rest of the archipelago. This is said to be a hard blow for the Spanish commissioners.

From the few details that have leaked out, it seems that Spain hoped to deal with the Philippines upon the basis established in the protocol—that is, the cession of Manila and one island for a coaling station. Now, as Manila is the key to the Philippines, the archipelago would virtually be under the control of the power holding it—that is to say, the United States. Spain, therefore, has no very keen desire to keep the islands under such circumstances, but at the same time is hoped to sell them as dearly as possible, but this hope is being shattered, if it is true that America, while retaining Luzon, the most important island in the group, will insist at the same time upon the entire independence of the other islands.

It is said that the Spanish commissioners have received very definite instructions to refuse their agreement to the cession of the island of Luzon unless the United States will assume the entire Philippine debt. As to the independence of the other islands, the commissioners, it appears, refuse even to consider it.

From one source your correspondent heard that the American delegates intended disposing of the Philippines' debt question by the appointment of an arbitration commission, of which the duty will be to go into statistics, so as to make clear how much of this debt has been actually incurred for the benefit of the Philippines and how much for that of the Spanish government and military officials.

The intentions of the United States as just given certainly coincide with the terms of the protocol which prescribes Manila to be retained, with another island for a coaling station. There seems to be no reason why that other island should not be Luzon, if the American Government really decided to settle the question this way. There is some reason for the dissatisfaction of the Spanish commission, as it renders them powerless under the protocol.

General Merritt, in both his conferences with the commissioners, is known to have strongly urged upon Mr. Day and his colleagues the importance of holding all the islands. He described at length the great advantages to the United States that would result from the retention of the islands and also pointed out that Spain was absolutely powerless to restore her authority. The General believed that the best solution was complete annexation.

This will be the fourth dividend paid by the bank in the settlement of the affairs of the bank, and will make 25 per cent of the original indebtedness, $209,000, to depositors, or $52,250 paid them since the bank closed its doors in April, 1897.

CHILD FALLS OUT OF AN OPEN WINDOW.

Marx Jorgenson, a 3-year-old child, had a miraculous escape from instant death yesterday. He fell out of a second story window. The little fellow is the son of Laurenz Jorgenson, proprietor of the Brooklyn House, East Oakland. While playing near an open window the boy fell out, striking the bitumen sidewalk twenty feet below, rebounding like a rubber ball and then striking on his head.

Dr. A. H. Dodge was summoned, and after a critical examination failed to find any broken bones. It is feared, however, that the child is injured internally.

Mrs. Jorgensen gives the following account of the accident:

"I was in the front room getting ready to go out on a visit, when I noticed Marx had climbed out on the window sill from the lounge. He was just in the act of grabbing for a bird cage when he slipped. I reached to save him, but the distance was an inch or so too far, and down he went. I was horrified, and expected to pick him up dead."

Laurenz Jorgenson is at present on a visit to Denmark.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The Journal today attributed the abdication of the leadership of the Imperialist party by Prince Victor Napoleon, in favor of his brother, Prince Louis, who is in favor at the Russian court, as being due to the hostility of the ex-Empress Eugenie and influential Bonapartists. The newspaper adds that the fortunes of the ex-Empress and of Princess Matilda will be left to Prince Louis, who is Colonel of the Czarina's Lancers in the Russian army.

GARCIA LINES UP AT LAWTON'S PIE COUNTER.

Starts Out With Three Week's Rations to Pacify Rebels.

Has Induced Gen. Perez to Disband His Troops.

IS DENOUNCED AS A RENEGADE.

The Unreconstructed Element Says He Has Sold Out to the Americans.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Herald from Santiago de Cuba says:

General Garcia left the city Thursday morning on his mission through Santiago province, acting as an agent of the American Government to arrange the details for the disbandment of the Cuban army in the East. He will confer with the military commanders in the outlying districts, using his strong influence to induce the peaceful disarming of the Cuban soldiers and their return to work.

The Cuban leader left the city with an escort of sixty men, and was accompanied by Lieutenant Pamos, Captain Escalante and Lieutenant Colante as his aides. He will go to Jiguani, Bayoma and Manzanillo, visiting on his way all the other important Cuban commands. The tour will probably occupy three weeks, and his party received rations for that period from General Lawton.

The officials of the American administration here prophesy good results, believing that his efforts will be successful in getting this province rid of the large number of insurgent bands who are living on the country in a condition of outlawry, levying contributions on the planters and preventing the resumption of peaceful pursuits by those who are desirous of doing so.

General Garcia is, however, daily losing influence among the Cubans. His action in denying the authority of the Provisional Government has estranged the majority of the moderate party, while the extremists resent his friendly feeling for the United States and his co-operation with the administration here. Many of the latter characterize him as a renegade from the principles of independence and openly avow that he is allowing himself to be sold to the Americans.

His motives are looked upon with suspicion, and his desire to remove the friction between the Cubans and Americans is openly stated to be a trap for the defeat of Cuban independence. This feeling will militate greatly against his usefulness from the American standpoint.

As the result of Garcia's negotiations, General Perez will assemble the remaining troops of his command in the vicinity of Guantanamo, October 10th, and will there disarm and disband. This news has given great satisfaction, being the first instance of the voluntary disbandment of an important insurgent command.

A scheme will be presented to the Cuban assembly of delegates by 100 officers of the Cuban army, proposing the raising of a fund locally among the planters to pay the insurgent army.

The assembly will be asked to guarantee the loan by means of the Cuban revenues, which security, it is believed, the planters will accept. Garcia's proposal to go to the United States to raise a similar loan is not looked upon with favor by the Cubans, unless the United States is behind him in the matter.

It is scarcely possible now that the Assembly can meet on the 10th, as first proposed. Probably the first meeting will be held on the 25th. The tabulated returns thus far received here show the entire dominance of the party adherent to the present Provisional Government, which will probably be re-elected.

The first business to be dealt with is the payment and disbandment of the army. The next is the relation which Cuba will have to the United States, and then the final matter for settlement is the future government of the island.

AGUINALDO NOW ONLY A FIGUREHEAD.

He Takes Orders From a Junta Led by a Half-Breed.

His Fellow Leader, Artachio, Shot by the Secret Council.

THE DICTATOR GREATLY WORRIED.

Smallpox Among Our Troops Under Control—Death of Two Californians.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A special to the Herald from Manila, via Paris, says:

Artachio, who was a fellow leader with Aguinaldo in a former revolution and brought suit against Aguinaldo for half the money which was paid by Spain to make peace, has been shot by order of the insurgent leaders at Malolos. It is doubtful whether Aguinaldo was a consenting party to the execution.

Your correspondent visited the dictator at Malolos. He is evidently only a figurehead, put forward by a kind of revolutionary trust in which a mestizo named Paterno is the moving spirit. Your correspondent desired to visit the Spanish prisoners at Balucan, and was frankly told by Paterno that even Aguinaldo could not give a pass without the consent of the secret council, six of the members of which are not in the dictator's cabinet.

There are 120 Spanish prisoners at Balucan. They are literally starving. There are also twenty-four priests who are held incommunicado, despite the fact that they are non-combatants.

The insurgent party is becoming more disorganized every day. Each petty chief is setting up a little government on his own account, and no one is paying great attention to Aguinaldo's orders.

The dictator looks and evidently feels greatly worried over conditions prevailing here, as well as with the uncertainty attendant upon the result of the meeting in Paris. Paterno openly advocates independence.

There have been no new cases of smallpox among the American troops since Sunday. The disease is now well under control. Of the twelve cases in the pest house, eight have died. Private Horace Powers of the First California died today of smallpox, and Private Edward Braham of the same regiment died of typhoid fever today.

MALOON IS NOW AFTER MORE MONEY.

Propses to Strictly Enforce an Old Ordinance.

Many Wagons Have Escaped Being Taxed For Years.

License Inspector Maloon is taking measures to enforce the ordinance imposing a license tax on carts and other vehicles. Although part of the law has been lived up to, important sections of it have become dead letters. Many heavy wagons, and nearly all vehicles used for delivery purposes have escaped paying licenses, and although they have cut up the streets, they have been contributing nothing towards keeping the thoroughfares in repair.

The License Inspector has notified the coal dealers, paving companies, grocers, butchers and milkmen that they will have to pay a license of $5 per annum on every wagon used by them. He has given them three days' grace in which to comply with the law. If they do not pay up cheerfully by that time wholesale arrests will follow.

The ordinance fixes a license of $12 per annum on wagons used for hauling rock. This section, however, is inoperative, for the reason that it specifies wagons "drawn by three or more horses," whereas all the rock wagons are now hauled by single teams.

A Yacht Race.

A race between the yacht "St. Vincent," owned by a Mr. Clay, and the yacht "Gypsy," owned by J. Sherry and Mr. Clark, took place last Wednesday afternoon from the California Yacht Club. The route was from the narrow gauge bridge to Mission Point, thence to Angel Island and back.

The "St. Vincent" beat her competitor.

WILLIAMSON IS STILL HUNTING FOR A BRIDE.

Randolph Williamson has troubles of his own. He recently asked the assistance of Chief of Police Fletcher to locate a young woman he wished to marry, and that worthy official has informed the forlorn lover that in his opinion the woman is a fraud. Williamson, however, has explicit faith in the woman, and tells the following story:

"I first received a letter from Miss Mable M. Starr on April 6th. After that we corresponded regularly. After a time she made an appointment with me, but failed to keep it, as she received a telegram with my name signed to it, stating that I would not be there. The telegram was a forgery.

"Some time after that Miss Starr disappeared and I have been unable to locate her since. She told me all her letters went through the hands of her guardian, and I think he or someone else is detaining her, possibly in a mad-house. Such things have been done before. I am afraid she will become a lunatic if she is so detained. I am satisfied she desired to marry me, and I shall keep on and go as far as possible, for I am determined to find her. Nothing shall shake my faith in the lady.

"If I can't find out where she is or we cannot come together I believe I ought to go to some spiritual medium. If I can't find out there, I might have to ask the great Supreme Power to give me a vision.

"Miss Starr once asked me why I did not marry long ago. I am willing to get married if I thought I could make a heaven-made match, as this one is, and under the direction of the Supreme Power.

"The lady is very intelligent, but she is an orphan and not onto the ways of the world, and I think she is being forcibly held against her wishes for some evil purpose. Oh, I have had lots of difficulties to overcome, but I believe that if I had written at the start as I can write, and as the power above directed me to write, we would have met long ago."

The police believe that the lover is the victim of some designing woman, and are not endeavoring to locate her. Williamson, however, still insists that it is no fault of the woman's that he has not met her.
